AFTER ALL NIGHT SESSION SENATE STILL DEBATING

Washington, Feb. 9.—Another all night session of the senate, threats of many more and counter threats of what is likely to happen if there are many more, found President Wilson's ship bill still being tossed about in a sea of debate, with the Republican filibuster again in full blast.

The president at a White House conference today said he had no intention of dropping the bill and intimated he would call a special session if it were filibustered to death at the present one. The senate Republicans declared again they were prepared to talk-off a vote until March 4.

Some indications of the wearing effects of the long hard fight were coming out in the senate, however, and Senator Reed, one of the administration Democrats, proposed an order for the arrest of all the absentees; in short he proposed to bring every one of the ninety-six senators into the chamber and keep them there until the bill was disposed of. His proposal drew a roaring attack and gave prospect of furnishing material for an

SPEED UP! CONOVER TELLS LEGISLATURE

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Speaker Conover today called a number of house committee chairmen to his office and told them to "speed up" the legislative machinery. He also sent word to members of the joint committees investigating the banking department and salaries, urging that they hold sessions Friday, Saturday and early Monday when the legislature is not in session, in order not to take time of the members from other duties.

The speaker pointed out, it is said, that the house has been in session nearly six weeks and that the committees have not taken up consideration of any major measure of the Republican program. He called attention to the criticism of the legislature that has been voiced over the state, and by minority members on the floor of the house.

PASS TREMPER BILL

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Representative Sprague, of Scioto, today led the opposition on the floor of the house to a movement toward amending the Tremper senate bill which gives building and loan associations in flood districts more time for repairment of state funds. The amendment introduced seeks to raise the interest rates from 4 per cent to 5 per cent. It was against this increase in interest rates that Mr. Sprague led the fight by a speech late today.

The amendment was defeated after Sprague's speech.

The Tremper bill was then passed. It carries an emergency clause.

MONTEREY AGAIN SCENE OF BATTLE

Laredo, Texas, Feb. 9 General Renaldo de La Garza and his son, both Carranza leaders, wounded in yesterday's attack on Monterey today were brought to Nuevo Laredo. Instead of capturing Monterey as the constitution consul has announced yesterday, the Carranza forces were defeated there.

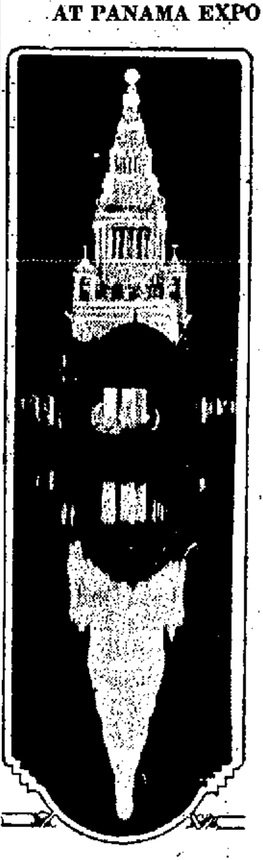
A defeat for General Antonio Villareal, a prominent Carranza general is reported yesterday on the road to Matamoras. Telegraph communication with Monterey is still cut. According to reliable reports the constitutionalists were led into ambush and permitted to enter Monterey, after which they were surrounded and the slaughter commenced. The loss of life is said to be great.

BRITISH NEWSPAPER DECRIES USE OF U. S. FLAG BY LUSITANIA

London, Feb. 9—Asserting that the Lusitania adopted "a permissible strategem" in hoisting the American flag to avoid danger in the final stage of her dash for Liverpool, the Manchester Guardian declares "an act may be perfectly lawful without being expedient or altogether fair." The paper says:

"The fact that our fastest liner should change her flag has shocked people as much as the loss of ...ile would have shocked our ...ety. If all, or any, of our great liners were to do the same the result would be, as American papers are pointing out, to diminish the value of protection given by the American flag. Not only would it be undignified in us and un... the nation which rules the seas, but it would also be unfair to the United States and it would reflect on us the same indignation as was aroused by Germany's threat to disregard neutral flags."

TOWER OF JEWELS AT PANAMA EXPO



The Tower of Jewels, the dominating piece of architecture at the Panama-Pacific exposition, is shown here illuminated for the first time. That it does not belie its title is evidenced by its beauty when it is illuminated. There are 125,000 jewels or novagems used to decorate the Tower, which stands on the Avenue of Palms.

PARRISH GETS TOLEDO JOB

Washington, Feb. 9—President Wilson has nominated George F. Parrish for postmaster at Toledo, Ohio.

Parrish is private secretary to Congressman Isaac W. Sherwood of the Toledo district and was endorsed by the latter. The appointment has been bitterly opposed by members from the Democratic organization at Toledo headed by John A. O'Dayer, the Democratic leader in Lucas county.

U. S. WILL POINT OUT THE DANGERS OF USING FLAG

TOO GENERAL TO BE BASE OF PROTEST

Washington, Feb. 9—The administration view of the hoisting of the American flag on the British steamship Lusitania as stated today on the highest authority is that the use of other flags by ships of nations at war is such a customary practice that no formal protest can be made, but that it will be proper to send to Great Britain a note pointing out the dangers to neutral shipping which may follow if such a practice is continued.

Regarding the establishment of a war zone by Germany around the British Isles, President Wilson said today he was awaiting the German government's memorandum being forwarded by Ambassador Gerard before reaching a decision on what attitude to take. He said Germany's first proclamation on the subject con-

Investigate Sanity Of Yonkers Nurse

Yonkers, N. Y., Feb. 9—Investigation into the story of Frederick Mors that he killed eight inmates of the German Odd Fellows' home where he was employed as nurse centered today in efforts to obtain sufficient corroboration to warrant exhuming the bodies of three of the alleged victims. These died from poison before the institution moved here from Unionport, according to Mors, but the authorities said today they would not act upon this statement until it was supported by other evidence.

The other five victims were put to death with an anaesthetic, Mors says an exhumation of their bodies would be of no value.

Light on the question as to whether Mors was mentally unbalanced was asked today from Dr. S. M. Gregory, who had the nurse under observation in the Bellevue hospital, New York.

CRITICIZES STATE LICENSE BOARD

Hamilton, Feb. 9—In issuing a saloon license here today to Miles D. Lindley, local Democrat leader, the county liquor licensing board also issued a statement to the effect that the state liquor license board had ordered it to issue Lindley a license.

The statement also said: "It has been apparent to us for a year that a mistake was made in appointing us, because we would not allow ourselves to be used to fulfill political promises made by the state board."

HAMBURG BUYS FOODSTUFFS

Hamburg, (Via The Hague and London), Feb. 9.—The council has appropriated 12,000,000 marks ($3,000,000) with which to purchase a supply of foodstuffs, fodder and other articles so that the city may be prepared for eventualities.

WOULD HANG GERMAN RAIDERS

London, Feb. 9.—Lord Charles Beresford is going to put a question to Premier Asquith in the House of Commons tomorrow in which he will demand that Great Britain treat German raiders on undefended places as pirates and after a trial by court martial, hang them in public for the murder of women and children. This applies to raids from the air as well as by sea. Lord Charles asserts that the government should adopt this plan in the future, and no longer treat such raiders as honorable foes.

DESPERATE FIGHTING IN EASTERN PRUSSIA

London, Feb. 9.—The fierce German attack on the Warsaw front is again at a standstill, according to reports received from both Berlin and Petrograd; on the other hand the Russian capital reports that on each wing of the eastern battle line the Russian offensive has been resumed.

The Austro-German army is said to have met reverses on the Galician side of the Uzsok and Beskid passes. Balancing these Russian successes are the Russian admission of their retirement before strong forces in Bukowina and the Austrian claim of having entered the town of Kimpolung in the Crown land.

Desperate Fighting In East Prussia

In East Prussia the fighting apparently is assuming a more desperate character. This may account for the lull on the Warsaw front as the East Prussian forces may have been reinforced by some of Field Marshal Von Hindenberg's veterans.

The fighting on the western front has been taking its usual monotonous course with infantry assaults on the trenches to an accompaniment of artillery firing.

The full text of the German blockade proclamation published in London today served as a theme for much comment in which the Lusitania flag incident figures largely. Most of the papers defend the use of the American flag in this emergency, but some of them express misgivings as to the effect of this course of action.

JUDGE SWING LEAVES BENCH

Cincinnati, Feb. 9—Significant changes took place in the court of appeals, Cincinnati district, today when Presiding Judge Peter F. Swing retired and Judge Frank M. Gorman was sworn in as his successor. With his retirement Judge Swing completed the longest continuous term of any judge upon any bench in the state of Ohio. His record is 30 years of continuous service in the circuit court, entering the court of appeals less than two years.

Duma In Session

Petrograd, (Via London), Feb. 9.—The Duma held its first session since August 9, when it approved the action of the Russian government in engaging in war with Germany. It is not unlikely that this session will be marked by events of importance in the history of the development of Russian political institutions, owing to the changed relations between the people and the government in consequence of the war.

PLAYING STOCK MARKETS IS GAMBLING ACCORDING TO OHIO SUPREME COURT

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Playing the stock market by buying and selling stocks on margins is gambling and those who suffer losses in doing so can recover from the broker.

That this is the view of the supreme court is indicated by its refusal today to allow Otis and Hough, brokers, to file an appeal from the Franklin county courts, ordering them to pay more than $2,000 damages to Mrs. Margaret Eylar, for money she lost in playing the market.

Stock brokers throughout the state were deeply interested in the outcome of the suit.

EXPORTS GAIN LEVEL IN VARIOUS LINES

Washington, Feb. 9—Exports of American manufacturers in December last regained the level shown for the same month in 1913, a decrease of ten per cent in finished manufactures being more than offset by gains in manufactured foodstuffs.

A statement by the department of commerce today shows that in certain lines of manufactures, however, exports made phenomenal gains compared with December a year ago. Among the more notable increases were: Commercial automobiles, from $101,000 to $3,333,000; cotton knit goods, $295,000 to over $2,000,000; woolen clothing, $183,000 to $1,323,000; other woolen goods, including blankets, $103,000 to $2,725,000; rubber boots and shoes, $84,000 to $861,000; sole leather, $254,000 to $3,000,000; upper leather, $1,750,000.

Zinc increased during the same period from 187,000 pounds to 36,860,000 pounds, while metal working machinery increased in value from $1,350,000 to $2,432,000.

An unusually large proportion of the exports are now going to Europe.

L. G. Tatman, of Portsmouth, an examiner in the state bureau of public accounting, who has made audits of the affairs of many defunct banks under process of liquidation, told the committee that funds of the bank at Amherst had been drawn on to pay expenses of the trip to Cedar Point and that similar accounts had been paid out of the regular funds of the banking department. This was during the administra-

HEAD OF U. S. STEEL CORPORATION SEES GOOD TIMES AHEAD

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—Courage and co-operation in business and confidence in a restoration of prosperity was the advice expressed by James A. Ferrell, president of the United Steel Corporation in an address before the engineer's society of Western Pennsylvania here last night.

Among reasons for encouragement Mr. Ferrell quoted eminent European and American authorities as calculating that the United States' excess of exports over imports in 1915 may easily reach one billion dollars; and he declared that the balance of trade in favor of the United States for the opening month of the year is at the rate of $1,500,000,000 a year.

"The years of greatest prosperity in the United States have been when balances were largely in our favor," asserted Mr. Ferrell.

"I feel safe in saying that if you will strain a point just now and trade a little more with each other and talk encouragingly of conditions rather than pessimistically, the business of the country will take on a momentum which will carry us into better times and what is more important create more employment for labor. Our best efforts should be put forth to stimulate activity in business and do everything practicable to increase the number of working people not only in the industries in this community, but throughout the whole country.

"The elements of prosperity are at hand; the developments from day to day are favorable. The steel trade has been called the barometer of business; there is a marked increase in orders and in operations, more men are obtaining employment and the trade movement is progressing and encouraging and we should do everything practicable to sustain and advance it."

GIRL ADMITS SHE POURED GASOLINE ON BEDS AND THEN SET THEM ON FIRE

At the conclusion of the hearing Tuesday morning, Juvenile Judge Beatty was at loss to know what disposition to make of the case of Ina Cassity, the seventeen year old local girl who is being held jointly with her mother in connection with a fire at their home last week.

The girl openly confesses her part in the crime, but the court holds to the opinion she was prompted to do as she did by her mother, whom the state authorities hold to be the principal offender. Despite a rigid inquiry in which Deputy State Fire Marshals Donovan and Miller participated, the court was unable to find evidence that would reflect upon the character of the girl. Every one who knew her and especially the neighbors living near the Cassity home informed the court that she was a girl of good habits and splendid character. The girl herself stated that she had never been in trouble of any kind before.

While admitting that her mother wanted to collect the insurance to pay her outstanding indebtedness, the girl told Judge Beatty that the principal motive behind their acts was to keep the furniture from falling into the hands of the installment collectors whom, she claimed, hounded them day after day with bills. She claimed that they had paid the greater portion of the amounts due, but that they had lost their receipts, and the collectors were trying to collect some of the same bills a second time. She added that they threatened to take possession of the furniture unless the full amounts were paid.

In support of the above statements, she testified that her mother was not sure whether the insurance policies had lapsed or not, since they had always been in possession of Mr. Cassity, who was away from home.

The young girl seemed loathe to recite to the court in detail the events proceeding and leading up to the commission of the crime, and it was with diffiently that Judge Beatty induced her to talk about the the actual acts of incendiarism.

She admitted, however, that she went upstairs the evening of the fire and poured gasoline on the beds upstairs and ignited them. When asked who set fire to the beds downstairs, she replied "I guess mother did." She said she had purchased the gasoline the day before at a grocery store near by for cleaning clothes.

Judge Beatty tried to impress upon the girl the seriousness of her act, but with little success, as she replied at one time: "I didn't know they could do anything to me for what I did. Why, over in Kentucky, where we came from, they don't think anything of having a fire. The houses generally burn up, too, as there are no fire departments over there. Besider, the house was only damaged a little, anyway."

Peter Cassity, the father of the girl, who was at Morehead, Ky., when the crime was committed, was also at the hearing, but he could throw no light upon the affair. He said that he was shocked when he heard that his wife and daughter were suspected of having set fire to their home, and could not believe it possible. He denied having had any trouble with his wife before he left home, and also stated that Ina had always been an obedient daughter and had never given him any trouble. His testimony established the fact that the insurance policy was paid up until July, 1915.

After about an hour had been consumed in the hearing, Judge Beatty ordered the girl back to jail, and announced that he would not pass finally upon the case until some time Wednesday. He stated that it was the most unusual case that has came to his attention in the juvenile court since he has been on the bench. "If the girl had been inclined to be wayward and incorrigible, I could easily understand her connection with the crime," said Judge Beatty. "But in view of her past reputation, I can hardly reconcile myself to the fact that she actually committed the crime to which she has confessed."

Mrs. Cassity, the girl's mother, who faces a charge of arson, is still under a physician's care at the county jail, and unable to leave her bed. On this account, it is probable that her case will be presented to the grand jury without the formality of a preliminary hearing, unless she recovers sufficiently within the next day or so to be able to be arraigned.

Witnesses have been subpoenaed up until and including Saturday morning, and the report will not be forthcoming until Saturday afternoon at the earliest. There is a strong likelihood that the investigation will continue until next week.

but this is very doubtful.

As regards style tendencies: Putty and sand seem to be the most favored shades with strongly contrasting black and white checks, stripes, etc., following closely (especially with fabrics) and I am buying accordingly. Gabardines, serges, poplins, englandines (a new material similar to serge) will be especially good in black, navy and pearl gray for suits and coats, and coverts are being featured strongly.

A great many suits have the high waist-line, but some authorities claim that this mode will be of short duration so I am buying them sparingly. It is asserted that most American women will not take kindly to this mode.

Of course semi-military modes are being shown strongly and they are very pretty and jaunty, some of those in putty and sand reminding one of the familiar Boy Scout's uniform. The Skirts are invariably circular and average, except in the very extreme modes, from 72 to 108 inches in width. Separate skirts are about the same though I have seen a few extreme models as wide as 8 yards.

Nearly all the coats I have seen have a distinct rectangular flare and are fairly short. A belted effect of some sort from the little four inch tabs to the complete girdle is common to them all. Fabrics include gabardines, homespuns, poplins, heavy satins and velvets.

Waists and petticoats are being shown in such shades as putty, biscuit, sand, pearl gray, etc. to harmonize with coat or skirt. Nearly all the blouses are long sleeved with a high military collar, though of course some very clever low neck effects are shown.

The coat dress will be popular this spring in gabardine, serge-tailleur, poplin, etc. in the wool materials, black and white taffeta will lead for the silk worm, while cotton will be stimulated by an extended use of corduroy, golfine, Georgette crepe, poult de soie and cambric.

Taken as a whole, the styles are very catchy and

Davis to see that the bundle was given to Ex-Deputy Martin Hall.

West avenue and East Stanton avenue were clear of backwater Tuesday morning. Water still remains in the back yards of several of the homes on the south side of West Rhodes avenue.

Mrs. Louis Leslie, of Scherer's Hollow, has been ill for several days.

Pipe Inspector Frank Taylor and Contractors Henson and Sheppard, who have charge of the hauling of the pipe and materials for the village's water distributing system, were busy Tuesday morning checking up invoices. Every pipe received so far has passed inspection and is up to standard weight.

Alda Charlotte Hurley, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hurley, of East Rhodes avenue, is convalescing from a slight illness.

After a short visit at the home of their brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Flack, Clark and Russell Wilson have returned to their home in Columbus.

DECENTRALIZING LIQUOR BILL WOULD GIVE POWER TO REPUBLICAN COUNTIES

Columbus, Feb. 9.—How closely the McDermott bill to decentralize the liquor licensing system accords with views of Governor Willis and the Republican administration was a topic of much discussion in legislative circles here today. The bill was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator McDermott, of Trumbull.

Democrats today characterized the measure as strongly partisan because they said the nine appointing districts into which the state is divided and in which the county clerks elect district license officials, are so arranged as to give Republican counties the predominance of power in each appointing district. They called the bill "a liquor license gerrylander."

Republican supporters of the measure pointed out that the system created by the McDermott bill eliminates what they consider the objectionable features of the present license law, the great authority of the state licensing board and the appointment by the governor of its members. At the same time they suggested, it guards against each county being compelled to pick its own license officials. The district authorities under the McDermott bill would have the authority which comes from appointment from above without the danger of appointment by state authorities, they declared.

Would Abolish The State License Board

The McDermott measure provides for abolition of the state liquor licensing board, whose three members now are appointed by the governor and receive $5,000 each. In its place would be created a state excise and license commissioner, salary $3,600, appointed by the governor for a two year term. His duties would be to detect law violations through a corps of deputy inspectors whom he may appoint, and to supervise the general business affairs of the district officials.

The state would be divided into thirty-three licensing districts, which contain two or three counties each, with the exception of Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties, each of which would constitute a distinct district. A bi-partisan licensing board, with no two members from the same county, is created for each district.

The state is divided again into nine appointing districts. The county clerks in each of these districts are to form an organization and elect the district licensing officials. This organization of clerks also has authority to fix salaries of district licensing commissioners which in no case may be more than $4,000 a year and to hear charges of misconduct preferred by citizens or the state commissioner.

Under the present law each county constitutes a district and a bi-partisan board of two members is appointed by the state commission for wet counties, to administer the licensing authority.

Grant License For Two Year Periods

By terms of the McDermott bill licenses are to be granted for a period of two years instead of one as under the law now in operation, and the license year would begin the fourth Monday in May, instead of the fourth Monday in November when it starts now.

Breweries are prohibited from selling or delivering liquor to homes under the proposed new law. Only saloon and wholesale licenses are granted, and no person, firm, corporation or partnership may hold two kinds of license. A licensed retail dealer may sell in quantities of no more than one pint of distilled or one gallon of malt liquor. A wholesaler may sell only in quantities greater than two gallons of malt or one gallon of distilled liquor.

Appeals from the orders of the district board in granting or refusing a license are to be made to the common pleas court of the county in which the complaint arises, instead of to the state commission, as the present law provides.

SENATE DEBATING

all day's debate. Meanwhile the ship bill itself is waiting, practically where it has been for the last week.

No Let-Up Until Deadlock Is Broken

At noon the senate had been in session 24 hours and Senator Kern, the Democratic leader, was declaring any motion to adjourn or recess would be defeated. Both sides were stout in their declaration that there would be no more breathing spells and no let up until the deadlock was broken. At that hour every member of the body was on the floor, except Senator Lewis, who, ill, was sleeping nearby. It was the first time in many years that all the seats had been filled. Debate on Senator Reed's proposal was tinged with intimations of some sort of cloture if the deadlock continued.

Vice President Marshall finally, interrupting debate, ruled that inasmuch as Senator Reed's original proposal was not debatable, the appeal was not debatable. From that ruling Senator Lodge appealed and the senate by a vote of 46 to 38 refused to sustain the chair. The insurgent Democrats voted with the Republicans as did Senator Bryan, Democrat, of Florida. Senator Norris, Republican, voted with his party, but Senator LaFollette, Republican, stood by the Democrats.

Following that vote, the vice president, with unanimous consent, decreed that all intervening motions had been decided and that the question before the senate was Senator Reed's order to compel continuous attendance and that the motion was debatable.

Senator Hitchcock then took up the debate, speaking on his substitute. He thought Democrats who did not believe in a caucus had not been treated fairly.

While the debate proceeded administration leaders asked Senator Reed to withdraw his proposed order that debate might proceed on the merits of issue. When he sought to do so, however, Senator Smoot objected and another parliamentary dispute arose.

It was finally unanimously tabled by a viva voce vote, thus disposing of an issue which had distracted the senate from the ship bill itself since early morning.

Senator Jones, of Washington, had held the floor virtually all night opposing the bill. He began his address late yesterday when a parliamentary struggle disclosed the fact that the Democrats were again in control of a majority vote of the senate, the mobilization of their forces having been completed with the arrival of Senators Newlands and Smith of South Carolina.

At 6 a. m., today the senate had been in session continuously for eighteen hours. Republican leaders insisted they could keep up the fight until March 4 if necessary. The Democrats were equally insistent that they could retain a majority within call and determined to carry the struggle to the bitter end.

Throughout the night the Democrats made few efforts to interrupt Senator Jones. Ante rooms of the senate chamber had been hastily fitted with cots and blankets and in these senators snatched a few hours of sleep. Senator Fletcher, in charge of the shipping bill, remained at his desk all night stretched out over two chairs and dozing fitfully. One or two of his Democratic colleagues and an equal number of Republicans were always in the chamber.

Threaten The Arrest of Absentees

Senator Jones was granted a brief respite at midnight when Senator Fletcher demanded a roll call to ascertain if a quorum was present. A preliminary struggle ensued, Senator Fletcher finally having adoted a motion for the arrest of absentees. He withdrew it, however, before the writs actually were issued and the senate settled down to the monotony of Senator Jones' long address.

During the debate on the motion the roll was called several times and the largest number of senators to respond was fifty. They came in from the committee rooms, many with ruffled hair and wrinkled clothing, indicating that they had been sleeping when the whirr of the call bells summoned them back.

The pending question upon which Senator Jones held the floor was Senator Fletcher's motion to amend Senator Clarke's motion to re-commit the shipping bill. The amendment would require the committee to return the bill forthwith bearing amendments which are said to have been decided upon in order to obtain for the measure the support of Senator Norris, Progressive Republican.

Holds Floor For Over Thirteen Hours

Senator Jones yielded the floor at 8:20 a. m. to Senator Bristow, who immediately made a point of no quorum. Senator Jones had spoken 13 hours and 55 minutes. His only relief during the night was at calls for a quorum which took one hour and forty-five minutes. The speech was surpassed for its length only by that of Senator LaFollette, who spoke 18 hours and 20 minutes against the Aldrich-Vreeland currency law and by Senator Burton, who spoke more than 14 hours on a river and harbor measure.

After the quorum was obtained Senator McCumber, another Republican began to speak.

Order Arrest Of Republican Absentees

Drastic steps were proposed by Democratic senators to break down the opposition to the bill by compelling constant attendance of all the opposition.

Senator Fletcher, immediately after Senator McCumber begun to speak, got an order passed for the arrest of Senators Bankhead, Borah, Burton, Camden, Catron, Goff, Hardwick, Hitchcock, Lodge, Oliver, O'Gorman, Root, Sterlin, Sutherland Vardaman and Weeks all absent. Senator Reed presented an order to compel each senator to remain in the chamber until excused. Senator Gallinger denounced the order as outrageous and a prolonged debate followed.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A New Discovery

Thin men and women— that big, hearty filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Fisher and Streich and all other druggists in Portsmouth and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

tained many questions on which the United States would like further explanations.

Simply A Warning Says The President

The president takes the view that the war zone proclaimed by Germany does not constitute a blockade or even a paper blockade. He stated that it was simply a warning.

The president himself said that action by congress could not control the use of the American flag by foreign ships and that restrictions on such practices would have to come through international agreement.

The administration, it was indicated, is deeply studying the war zone question with a view of determining its possible effect on American shipping and will seek further information from Germany on exactly what was intended and that measures will be taken to insure American vessels from attack.

Mr. Wilson mentioned Ambassador Bernstorff's explanation of the war zone order but repeated that the United States would not finally determine what course will be taken until the official explanation from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin was received.

Attach Importance To Lusitania Incident

High officials apparently attached much importance to both the Lusitania and war zone situations and it was made clear today that every effort will be made to protect American rights

President Wilson told callers that up to the present no other neutral governments have officially asked the co-operation of the United States. Discussing the general international situation, President Wilson said today that he was not surprised at the length of time taken by Great Britain in forwarding its final reply to the American note on the interference with American shipping.

Children Have Kidney Trouble

Three years ago my little girl, Angela, was taken sick with scarlet fever and later dropsy set in; her face and limbs swelled and her eyes puffed. A leading physician here at the time treated her without the slightest success. A sample of your Swamp-Root having been left at the house at the time, I resolved to try it, and as it agreed with her stomach I continued using it with gratifying results. The inflammation began to subside after she had taken the first fifty-cent bottle, and after she took two large bottles she was pronounced cured by the doctor and has been in good health ever since. The doctor came to see her every day and examined her every second day until he pronounced her kidneys in perfect condition.

Now then the doctor was under the impression that I was giving my girl his medicine, but as his medicine had failed to do a bit of good, and desiring not to offend him, I did not tell him I was giving her Swamp-Root and he did not know the difference. I did not use one drop of his medicine after I started my girl on Swamp-Root, and have always felt that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root saved my girl's life, for which I am grateful.

I cannot praise it too highly.

River Continues To Retreat; Completely Evacuates City

At 3:30 Tuesday afternoon the Ohio river registered 47 feet and 11 inches, a fall of almost seven feet since the Ohio began to sing its recessional Saturday night. The highest stage reached was 54 feet 8 inches.

The backwater was beginning to leave the new towpath Tuesday afternon and was expected to be entirely off this road by Wednesday morning.

The Ohio river began receding at quite a rapid rate Monday night falling exactly 2.2 ft., the marks showing a stage of 49.8 ft. Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock.

The river had gotten within its banks again excepting below the city where it will probably remain over the roads for another day or two. It was practically out of Slabtown, again leaving considerable driftwood and a sea of mud in its wake. Much driftwood was also strewn over York Place.

The city public service department put a force of men to work Tuesday morning clearing the flood wall driveways of all driftwood. It is to be hoped that steps will also be taken to wash the grade of all mud once the water has gotten to a normal stage.

The fire engine which has been doing duty at the Union street valve for some days past, quit pumping Monday evening, all danger of a renewed overflow having vanished. The engine answered its purpose very well and many property owners in that vicinity commended the officials for having stationed the engine there. George A. Goodman kept the firemen supplied with hot coffee and lunch every day.

The city officials will at once begin repairs or reconstruct the defective valve which was responsible for the overflow east of Union street.

PORTSMOUTH MAN TELLS

tion of E. W. Lattanner, as superintendent of banks.

Security of Banks Closed Proved Good

Tatman testified also that certain banks had been closed by the state banking department on the ground that the securities held by the banks were worthless, but which later had been proved good.

George Walters, superintendent of banks for about two weeks after Mr. Lattanner resigned Jan. 1, Miss Ila L. Lathrop, a stenographer, in the department, and John V. Cameron, of Hamilton, financial clerk in the Blue sky bureau, also testified before the committee.

Henry Ballard, assistant attorney general, counsel for the legislative committee, testified today the former officials of the banking department accused of irregularities, will not be called on to testify before the committee, and that consequently immunity from possible grand jury indictment will be granted none.

Expense Accounts Were Paid Out Twice

Tatman explained that the duplication of expense accounts and the double payment to officials and stenographers might easily occur by mistake considering the awkward system of bookkeeping used in the Amherst and other banks in liquidation. He explained that there was no doubt, however, that these expense accounts were paid out twice and that the double payments were accepted.

Cameron testified that he had been instructed by Superintendent Lattanner to omit expenses of the banking department for the month between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15, from the annual report, thus making the report actually for only 11 months of the year. Both he and Miss Lathrop, a stenographer in the department, testified that during this month omitted from the report, between 500 and 600 copies of election campaign literature were prepared and mailed out by employes of the department in regular working hours.

SENSE ABOUT FOOD

Facts Worth Knowing

It is a serious question sometimes to know just what to eat when a person's stomach is out of order and most foods cause trouble.

Grape-Nuts food can be taken at any time with the certainty that it will digest. Actual experience of people is valuable to anyone interested.

A Terre Haute woman writes: "I had suffered with indigestion for about four years, ever since an attack of typhoid fever, and at times could eat nothing but the very lightest food, and then suffer so with my stomach I would wish I never had to eat anything.

"I was urged to try Grape-Nuts and since using it I do not have to starve myself any more, but I can eat it at any time and feel nourished and satisfied. Dyspepsia is a thing of the past, and I am now strong and well.

"My husband also had an experience with Grape-Nuts. He was very weak and sickly one spring and could not attend to his work. He was put under the doctor's care, but medicine did not seem to do him any good until he began to leave off ordinary food and use Grape-Nuts. It was surprising to see the change in him. He grew better right off, and naturally he has none but words of praise for Grape-Nuts.

"Our boy thinks he cannot eat a meal without Grape-Nuts, and he learns so fast at school that his teacher comments on it. I am satisfied that it is because of the great nourishing elements in Grape-Nuts."

This mother is right. Grape-Nuts food is a certain and remarkable rebuilder of body, nerves and brain.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time are genuine, true and full of human interest.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. CROSS.

We were rejoiced to see that a Portsmouth man in the person of Mr. J. E. Cross was recognized by the new administration of affairs at Columbus and was appointed to one of the most important offices in the gift of the governor. We are always glad to see Portsmouth recognized, for every little bit helps the town along and helps to keep it before the eyes of the world. When the Democrats were in control at Columbus we were always willing to do all we could to help some deserving citizen land in office to which he aspired, and when the Republicans are in we are equally glad to see good men put on the firing line.

In the case of Mr. J. E. Cross we are doubly pleased to tender our congratulations, for he is a clean, honest, thoroughly capable young man. He merits the position not only on that account but also because of long and faithful party service. There never has been any question of Joe Cross' Republicanism and there never has been a time when he was not ready to do his share of the fighting. With it all he has been a fair opponent, a decent opponent, a man whom a member of the opposition party respected and esteemed.

THE VALUES OF LAND.

The Jackson Standard-Journal has some more to say about Carp Stevenson and his big corn yield, mention of which was made some weeks ago. It says:

"The article about Carp Stevenson's corn attracted the attention of the Gallia Times and the Portsmouth Times, and the latter very courteously gave credit to the Standard Journal, with the result that a Portsmouth man sent Stevenson a letter yesterday.

"Complimenting him upon his yield, he remarked that the charge of two dollars for rent is low, adding that it is ten dollars in Scioto. Then he proceeded to ask questions about Stevenson's system of cultivation.

"The Portsmouth man should stop paying ten dollar rents. He can find a thousand farms in Jackson county, which can be bought outright for ten dollars an acre, acres of land, which will produce 80 to 120 bushels of corn annually for an indefinite period, after two or three years of preparation. Scores of our farmers averaged 60 to 70 bushels of corn in 1914."

Well, anyway, if they do go ahead and pave that West Side road at the same time as the rest of the roads leading into Portsmouth, a use can be found for the old canal bed other than forming an adjunct to the thrifty farmers who have been plowing it up each year. The Chillicothe pike joy riders who are worrying Charlie Hill so much can plough their way through the canal bed in order to dodge the paving and the temporary road, that is if they can see their way through that magnificent corn crop some of Charlie's neighbors usually raise on the canal.

We really feel like tapping Adam on the wrist. Here comes a man who said in 1907 that the valve of the Union street pumping station leaked and although there have been two Republican and one Democratic mayor since then, the leak has never been repaired. And Adam is therefore to blame. Shame upon you Adam. Where were you in 1907 when Stewart Walker made his discovery? Didn't you know that you would be mayor in 1915 and that there would be a flood then? You are decidedly criminally negligent of your duties for not knowing and taking cognizance of the complaint made eight years ago.

It should be pasted away in a scrap book that the Hon. William R. Sprague voted to emasculate and destroy the Workmen's Compensation act which has worked out to the entire satisfaction of everybody except the liability insurance agencies and the damage suit lawyers. Victims of accidents now get all the awards and do not have to divide with any one or pay court costs, as under the old plan to which Mr. Sprague seems wedded.

Gov. Willis announces he is soon going to appoint an oil inspector. Coincidentally George Keller packed his grip and began saving up to make a trip to the capital. No, George isn't after the main job—he just wants a crumb.

And a man came out of Adams county and copped the fat plum from under the noses of the patriots of Scioto who had been sitting around and looking longingly and lovingly at the tree on which it grew.

BARBERS' LICENSE LAW.

Col. Sibley, of the Gallipolis Tribune, comes to the front with a few suggestions for amending the proposed law to license barbers. He says that a sincere law for barbers, based on the needs of their customers, would require them, on pain of heavy penalties, to cut a man's hair as ordered, to keep their razors sharp, to cut out the onion and garlic diet, and not to go home to meals on Saturdays. Another provision of such a law would prohibit them jerking their combs through the hair of men whose locks are thinning under the destructive influence of time, not to mention a requirement that all hair tonics, shampoo fluids and cosmetics should have the endorsement of the state board of health.

Another thing that would be of convenience to customers would be a cigar holder and lighter attached to each chair and a light lunch served on the side to each customer who had to wait more than ten minutes for his turn.

Judging by the way the rest of those Colorado labor leaders sailed into young Johnnie Rockefeller after his famous kiss and make up seance with Mother Jones we would remark, as an unprejudiced observer, that there seemed to be some jealousy extant. The next thing we hear Mother Jones will find her sincerity as a true friend of the cause in question.

Most editors are so patient and long-suffering by practice that, when prominent citizens come around and take an hour or two of the editorial time letting out in their unobtrusive way how much more they know about the newspaper business than the people trained in it, they grin and bear it, recognizing it as one of the afflictions which custom has linked onto the business.—Marion Star

West Virginia is reaping the whirlwind from electing such a character as H. D. Hatfield as governor. Hatfield did not like the citizens of Williamson, W. Va., and so he has had his legislature pass a bill disfranchising the people of that city and putting the entire governmental affairs into the hands of a commission of three appointed by himself.

"New York Reformers Denounce Mr. Bryan," reads a headline in the Enquirer. That is the most encouraging thing we have ever read about Bryan. When that half-baked bunch of long-haired freaks get after a man his fortune may be considered to have been made.

One of the ways in which the great leaders of the Republican party locally can land a job at Columbus is to take a course in "learning how" from the experts in Adams and Pike counties. Still, by the time they get wise there may be only the small crumbs left.

The Kaiser is said to have quoted feelingly Calvin's saying that one man with God is a majority. Whom could he have meant—Billy Sunday?—New York World.

The Ohio river is learning that the fellow who starts down hill is never the recipient of one-quarter the attention that is accorded the going up process.

Use the Newspapers

Don't advertise on trees or rocks,
Afar from haunts of men.
You cannot sell the woodchuck clocks,
Or pictures for his den.

The squirrel may observe your sign
About your cure for chills,
And on it may try to dine,
But that won't pay your bills.

The 'possum buys no breakfast foods,
We may as well confess.
So if you want to sell your goods
You'd better use the press.

A Close Shave

One day the five-year-old daughter of the house was looking through a picture book, when she suddenly glanced up to her mother: "Mamma," said she, with a very serious expression, "don't men ever go to heaven?" "Why, of course, my dear," answered the mother in surprise. "What makes you ask?" "Because," responded the little girl, turning to the book again. "I have never seen any pictures of angels with whiskers." "That's easily accounted for, darling," was the rejoinder of mother. "While men do go to heaven, they only get there by a very close shave."

MOTHER McGREW AND CORDELIA CLAM.

Cordelia Clam was an obstinate child,
And a most provoking one, too;
She lived in the sea, and, of course, she belonged
To the family of Mother McGrew.

The fault of Cordelia was common enough;
You've seen it yourself, I've no doubt;
If she didn't feel like it she wouldn't talk,
She'd just close her mouth up and pout.

It happened quite often that Mother McGrew
Had friends in for afternoon tea,
And when they had finished they'd go for a stroll
On the beach by the side of the sea.

And if they would meet Miss Cordelia they'd say,
"Good afternoon, dear; how are you?"
Instead of responding politely, she'd pout
And embarrass poor Mother McGrew.

Or maybe in school her teacher would say,
"Cordelia Clam, you may recite."
But she would just sit there and not say a word,
Instead, she would close her mouth tight.

Till finally old Mother McGrew said, "Dear me,
Your stubbornness makes me quite sick;
You just can be silent the rest of your life,"
And she touched her three times with her stick.

That Clams haven't spoken a word from that day
To this I believe to be true,
Though I've met them a lot, I've not heard them make
One single remark; now, have you?

I feel pretty sure you don't need this advice,
But I think it's a pretty good plan,
Whenever you're spoken to always to try
To be as polite as you can.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Feb. 9.—Irregularity aided in today's operations, the stock market sagging in the later dealings on general selling of prominent railway issues.

The optimistic views of the president of the United States Steel corporation of the foreign trade situation, coupled with another break in exchange on London, were factors in the general rise which followed the early trading. Aside from Canadian Pacific, however, none of the leaders gained as much as a point, the more substantial advances again being confined to specialties. Bethlehem Steel continued to rise, despite adverse dividend prospects. Loose-Wiles Biscuit fell 3 points to its minimum of 20. Sudden selling of New York Central at decline of two points developed at midday. Bonds were easy.

A two point advance in Canadia Pacific resulting from yesterday's declaration of the regular dividend was the only noteworthy feature of the early and somewhat irregular stock market. Leading shares again moved contrarily, U. S. Steel, Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific scoring slight gains while Reading and Southern Pacific were fractionally lower. National Lead was the strongest of the specialties, gaining two points, while Federal Mining pfd. lost as much. Trading became more active with a strong undertone at the end of the first half hour.

Reading, Pennsylvania, and St. Paul were sold in the final hour, when New York Central was weakest. The closing was heavy.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 9—Higher prices at Liverpool gave the wheat market today a decided lift here. Signs of fresh export business at Duluth counted also in favor of the bulls. Besides, word was received that freight rates from Argentina had been further advanced. After opening ⅜ to ⅞ up, the market here scored a moderate additional gain.

Corn rose with wheat and as a result of smallness of rural offerings to arrive. There was much covering by shorts. The opening which ranged from ⅜ and ½ to 1¼ and 1⅜ higher, was followed by continued hardening of values.

Oats were active and higher with corn. Commission houses traded for the most part on the buying side. Liquidation by miscellaneous holders weakened provisions. There was no urgent demand.

Afterwards, good Seaboard clearances and some export sales here helped to uphold corn prices. The close was firm, 1⅞ and 1¾ to 1¾ above last night.

Later, a reaction in wheat took place influenced by increased country offerings and by enlargement of the world's available stock total. The close, however, was steady at ⅜ to ¾ net advance.

OPENING PRICES

Wheat: May, $1.64 to $1.63¼; July, $1.39½ to $1.39⅜.

Pastor Advocates No Picture Shows, Cards, Pool Tables

In Psalms 78-32, we read: "For all this they sinned still." The Psalmist had reviewed the history of the wonderful deliverance of his people, by the hand of God, from the Egyptians. But despite this marvelous deliverance from Egyptian bondage and their ultimate successful entrance into the land of Canaan—"For all this they sinned still."

Rev. L. J. Hopper at the United Brethren church last night declared that "a sermon preached upon the subject of sin only could not have an orderly and methodical arrangement, because of the nature of sin itself. Sin is the essence of discord, the disturber of harmony, an excresence in the life of the individual, an abomination to heaven, and a stench in the nostrils of God. It is the only thing on earth that God hates! It is a thing that God never created.

"Sin is the surprise of the universe. Sin is not a natural thing, but an abnormal thing, and is born of the devil. There would be no grave-yards had there been no sin. Sin is the only thing that can keep us out of heaven."

"There are two kinds of sins—sins of commission and sins of omission. The church is too often guilty of the sins of omission—failure to perform full duty. Luke warmness in spiritual matters is a sin which God abhors, for He says, "because thou art lukewarm and neither cold or hot I will spew thee out of my mouth."

"Sin is a disease; salvation, the 'balm of Gilead' and Chist, the Great Physician."

The pastor advocates no pool tables, no picture shows, no playing cards. There is no good in these things.

The sermon was a strong defiance to sin and an earnest appeal for righteousness.

Evangelist Harter will deliver the sermon this evening. Come!

Mr. Caples Denies Bridge Moving Fake

The Irontonian carries the following official denial of the fake story that the C. & O. bridge was to be built at Ironton:

Editor Irontonian, Ironton, O.

Dear Sir:—I have just seen a copy of your issue of January 31, containing the statement that work on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern bridge over the Ohio river at Sciotoville had ceased altogether, that it would not begin again, and that the bridge had been abandoned. I wish to state that this information is incorrect. Work has not been stopped on the bridge but will continue until the bridge is completed. There is no foundation whatever for the statement that the location upon which the bridge is being built will be abandoned for any other.

Will you kindly have this correction made in your paper.

Yours very truly,
M. J. CAPLES,
Vice President

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD---TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

MR. KLEIN INSISTS HE IS RIGHT ABOUT SEAPORTS

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 8, 1915.
Editor Portsmouth Daily Times,
Portsmouth, Ohio.
Dear Sir:

I note in your issue of February 2, wherein "a prominent German" protests against my statement in the lecture, in which I stated that Germany has two seaports in competition with England's trade. This prominent German said that Germany has five seaports, as follows: Bremerhaven, Hamburg, Kiel, Wilhelmshaven, Stettin and Cuxhaven.

I do not like to speak harshly, but I feel that the "said prominent German" has never been to these cities, at least has never read his geography. The city of Hamburg is not a seaport. It is a four hours ride by an ordinary train, and a two hours ride by express, from Cuxhaven, a German seaport, mentioned by him. Almost the same is true of Kiel, which is simply on the Kiel canal, a naval base, thru which practically no shipping is done, and even if the government would dredge it and build docks all the way to the city of Kiel it would cost a few billion dollars, and they would have to go around thru the Sound and the Skagerrak before they could reach the North Sea or England. To call Stettin a seaport is like calling the city of Washington a seaport. The city of Stettin is many miles away from the Baltic Sea, on a small inlet, and cannot even be used for a naval base. If the government would work upon it, it would cost a few billion dollars, to build docks and do dredging work, a boat would have to go thru the Baltic Sea, thru the Sound between Denmark and Sweden, thru the Kattegat and thru the Skagerrak, before they could reach the North Sea and England.

Again I repeat as I did in my lecture that in order to contest for the trade of the world with England, Germany is using and can only use two seaports, to-wit: Cuxhaven, which is a long train ride from the city of Hamburg, and Bremerhaven, which is a long ride from the city of Bremen. Wilhelmshaven is a small place on the North Sea, which can hardly be used effectively, and the consul and trades report of our country will prove that practically no shipping is done there, in competition with England, only thru Cuxhaven and Bremerhaven, not many miles apart, has Germany real seaports in competition with the English seaports.

In conclusion let me say to the "prominent German" that there are many cities on seas in the world, yes thousands of them, but this doesn't make them seaports, no more than the fact that a boy goes to high school, does that make him a cultured man in itself. There are many boys going to high schools, but the fact of the going itself is nothing. There is a great distinction between a city on a sea and a seaport, and a nation must often spend many millions of dollars and lots of hard labor before a city can become a seaport, in the proper acceptance of that term. It is a difference with a distinction.

I trust that "the prominent German citizen" will not only consult his geography in the future, but that he will also consult the trade and consul reports of America, as well as reasonable probabilities before he jumps at so many seaports. Of course, this has no connection with the war. It is merely a question in geography.

Very truly yours,
NICHOLAS KLEIN.

NEW SAFEGUARDS

Tonight Is Stunt Night

Once a year local Boy Scouts have a big gym night better known by the boys as "Stunt Night." All kinds of athletic events and funny stunts are pulled off, and is usually one of the Red Letter days of Anniversary Week. The Scout Basket Ball League will play their regular schedual games, followed with other events. Owing to the limited space at the First Presbyterian gym, only those holding Athletic Association tickets and First Presbyterian gym tickets will be admitted. This rule will be rigidly enforced and no excuses accepted.

First event at 6 p. m. prompt.

The second day's events of Boy Scout Anniversary Week were equally as great success as the big opening rally at Trinity church on Sunday night. Monday, the second day of special celebration was Anniversary Day. Just five years ago from this date the Boy Scout Movement came to America, and every year on this date a specially prepared anniversary program is rendered throughout the United States.

The Anniversary Exercises in connection with the Annual Boy Scout Entertainment was held at the First Presbyterian church last night in the commodious Bible school auditorium which will hold comfortably about 600 people. Every seat was taken last night and many stood in the rear.

Howard Graf, who has been chairman of the Anniversary Day Committee for two consecutive years, presided last evening, and in his opening remarks reviewed briefly the opening events of the week held on Sunday, and announced the features for the program of the evening.

The first number on the program three fine reels of moving pictures, all being educational subjects, and proving helpful and interesting to the large audience present. This was followed by the reading of greetings to the local scouts from the chief scout of the United States, Ernest Thompson Seton.

The National Headquarters of Boy Scouts had arranged that every scout in the United States might take the scout oath at the same time. The time to take it in Portsmouth was 7:15 o'clock. At that hour, Chairman Graf requested all scouts in the vast auditorium to rise. The great body of scouts immediately responded with the impressive oath, which is as follows:

"On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

This was followed by a beautiful musical selection by 10 scouts, a section of the new Boy Scout band under the direction of Mr. Charles Brunner. The boys received a hearty round of applause and responded with another selection by four of the number: Howard Lowrey, Stanley McCoy, Wm. Bennett and Percy Shaw.

Harry Porter, well known local comedian, was the next attraction announced, and he responded with a selection entitled: "When Pa Was A Boy." He was encored, and returning to the stage gave his famous monologue "A Trip To The Farm," which included many of the imitations which have made him famous. The brass quartet rendered another selection, followed with two more reels of moving pictures; one of them being a coasting scene on Lincoln Hill, produced through the courtesy of Mr. Leroy Compton, of the Films Products Co.

Then came the real feature of the evening's entertainment the playlet by Miss Alma Davis and Mr. Harry Porter, entitled "When Ann Acted." Both displayed much theatrical talent, and scored a big hit with the big audience.

It was a great evening for the scouts, and all are under many obligations to Rev. John Wirt Dunning, who made the evening's fine entertainment possible.

A SAFE WAY TO STOP INDIGESTION

Without Fear of Weakening the Stomach. Works Fine in Any Case and Brings Relief in Ten Minutes.

The greatest folly of today is committed by people with weak dyspeptic stomachs who take artificial digesters to cure indigestion.

Artificial digesters—pepsin pills, etc. simply encourage a lazy or tired out stomach to shirk its work by doing most of its work for it. This is fine for a time but as every chronic dyspeptic knows, artificial digesters soon lose their efficiency. Where one once did the trick three or four are now required and the poor old stomach itself is worse off than ever.

Your stomach must be strong enough to expand and contract with a sort of churning movement so as to mix its digestive juices with your food. If your stomach isn't strong enough to properly churn your food, you will keep right on having indigestion after every meal until you make it strong.

There is one stomach remedy that every dyspeptic can depend on as surely as that the sun will rise tomorrow and that is the famous old MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets. Most stomach remedies let the stomach rest and digest the food themselves. Mi-o-na won't digest anything but it will strengthen and stimulate the stomach and make it do its own digesting. It stops stomach pains, gas, bloating, burning, belching, etc. in ten minutes and does still better by making the flabby, inflamed and inactive stomach walls grow strong and elastic and able to do their own churning. Mi-o-na Tablets never lose their effect and make mere artificial digesters need not be used forever. A few weeks use is generally sufficient to put any stomach in fine shape and Wurster Bros. and many other leading druggists hereabouts sell it with that understanding, agreeing to refund money to anyone who does not get complete relief.

GOVERNMENT LOOKS INTO LOCAL WIRELESS STATION

Is the United States planning to establish a wireless station in Portsmouth, in order that in a few seconds this city, in case of flood or disaster of any kind, could get in touch with almost any point in the world?

Cranston Locke, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Locke, of 3311 Gallia street, who has experimented in wireless telegraphy to such an extent that he can receive messages of a wireless nature from all parts of the United States, Key West, Cuba and Arlington, is in receipt of a letter from the superintendent of the government's Radio Station in Washington, making insistent inquiries about Cranston's ability to receive or send wireless messages, in case that dire disaster should suddenly visit Portsmouth.

Cranston, who for some time has had a radio station at his home, has been receiving messages over the wireless for some time. He has been able to receive them from the Springfield Watch Company, of Springfield, Ill., and according to wireless experts, this current is one of the strongest in the United States.

Dr. Locke stated to The Times, Tuesday, that an order had been placed for additional equipment for his son's radio station, and upon its installation he will be able to send wireless messages to any of the stations maintained in America.

"Wherever there is a wireless station I believe the government wants to know if messages can be received and sent so that they could make use of them when disaster strikes the city, such as the flood we had in 1913," said Dr. Locke, Tuesday. His son has made a careful study of wireless telegraphy and is said to be exceptionally well posted for a young man of his age.

Dr. Locke and son will act in touch with the officials in charge of the radio station in Washington and ascertain the full import of the inquiry they have made as to whether Cranston can receive and send wireless messages, and if his station is modernly equipped for rapid and accurate work.

The letter from Washington says:

Mr. Benj. C. Locke, 3311 Gallia Street, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Sir:—Will you kindly inform me as early as practicable, if there is a competent operator available for service at your station in case of an emergency where your radio set could be utilized for the conservation of life and property, such as floods, etc.

Also will you please give me the names and location of all other stations within your communication range, that might serve the public in such an emergency. By competent operators, I meant those who are able to transmit and receive at a reasonable rate, say 10 words per minute, or more. Even a slower rate would be of great service, if none of greater ability were available.

All stations are authorized and requested to use all available power and the most effective wave lengths when using their radio sets in the public service for the purposes above mentioned.

Thanking you for the attention and the courtesy of an early reply, I am,

Respectfully yours,
J. F. DILLON,
U. S. Radio Inspector.

Mother Unwilling To Give Up Child

R. D. Stapleton, of Third street, consulted the mayor Tuesday relative to his continued custody of the 2½-year-old son of Mrs. Naomi Collins-Davisson.

Mr. Stapleton said he had taken charge of the child a year ago when the parents separated. The mother had agreed to pay him $3.50 per week but has paid him only $20. He was willing to continue keeping the boy as he and wife had become greatly attached to him, but the mother when asked about adopting the boy, refused to commit herself. The mother was sent for and the mayor pointed out to her that she owed it to the Stapletons to be more prompt in her payments or permit them to adopt the child. It was finally decided that he communicate with her divorced husband Elza Davisson, an undertaker, of Ashland, Ky., and advise him to also contribute to the support of his child by paying $2 per week.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF ARSON GOES ON HUNGER-STRIKE

Mrs. Peter Cassity, East End woman arrested Saturday on a charge of arson, has gone on a "hunger strike" at the county jail. She has refused to eat anything since her incarceration in jail last Saturday.

Mrs. E. W. Smith, matron of the jail, has prepared all sorts of appetizing dishes for her during the past three days, but she has refused absolutely to eat anything. Her actions are attributed more to illness brought on by her arrest than by a desire to starve herself by Sheriff Smith.

So far, no attempt has been made to force her to eat, and Sheriff Smith is not anticipating the necessity of such a situation.

HOW TO GET RID OF DESPEPSIA

Don't Rely on Medicine; Don't Go On Freak Diet; Common Sense and an Antacid Usually All That Are Needed

If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, belching, distress after eating, heartburn or any other stomach trouble due to hyperacidity (the usual cause of stomach troubles), you should take no medicine to act upon the stomach itself. That is positively not the way to cure the trouble. Again, you should not half starve yourself by going without the nutritious food that you need to rebuild waste tissues. Some foods are not good for people even when in perfect health—very rich, and highly seasoned dishes. Avoid these, but eat fairly substantial meals of plain foods. Eat slowly. Even if you drink nothing but water, you should not drink with meals. Drink before and after eating. Do not take pepsin or other artificial digestants. If you follow the foregoing simple instructions it is probable that you will not need any medicine at all except, if you want to call it medicine, a little antacid after meals. The best antacid is ordinary bisurated magnesia, which can be purchased at Fisher and Streich's [illegible]. This is not to act upon the stomach but on the contents of the stomach. The antacid, as you can learn by consulting your dictionary or encyclopedia, is merely to neutralize or sweeten the excess acid and so the stomach can digest the food normally. [illegible] teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little cold or hot water after each meal. You should get immediate relief. Even if your case is severe, [illegible] moderate eating and the use of bisurated magnsia should put your health in normal condition in a short time if you have not allowed dyspepsia to advance to the extreme stage of [illegible] stomach ulcers.

THE FAT IN FOODS
is what furnishes the heat and energy for our bodies and it is body warmth that thwarts the chills that bring so much winter sickness.

It is the sudden change from comfortable school rooms to chilly streets that bring colds; the change from a well-heated factory to drafty street cars; from warm offices to icy winds, or from heat-regulated homes to the neighboring store. These are the changes that make winter dreaded and these are the important reasons why so many physicians prescribe the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion because its cod liver oil is especially adapted to generate body-warmth, and, further, it enriches the blood, throws off colds and prevents another cold.

Don't wait for colds to develop throat or lung troubles—get Scott's Emulsion at the nearest drug store. It is Winter's sensible medicine.

OBITUARY

Clarence Aloysius Schaefer.

Clarence Aloysius Schaefer, aged 15 years, the Portsmouth boy, who was stricken with cerebro spinal meningitis at St. Edwards college in Huntington, W. Va., Saturday night, has succumbed to the attack, dying about 10:15 o'clock Tuesday morning.

News of the youth's sad fate came as a severe blow to the members of the family prepared though they were for the worst and as a decided shock to relatives and friends over town. The sad word came from the mother who was at her boys' bedside when the end came. The father, Joseph P. Schaefer, well known Market street grocer, left for Huntington on a noon train to arrange for the removal of the body which is expected to arrive here on the 8:10 N. & W. train this evening. Mr. Schaefer had spent the greater part of Sunday at his son's bedside. He had expected to go up Monday with the family physician, Dr. Allard, of this city, and Dr. Ed Herman, of Newport, Ky., a relative of the family.

Clarence first complained of severe pains in the head early Saturday morning and during the course of the day his neck had swollen. It was first thought he was suffering with tonsilitis. That night he required the services of a physician and it was found he had developed meningitis. This information reached the family here Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. The stricken student grew rapidly worse and although heroic measures were resorted to in an effort to save his life it was soon clear he was past medical aid and that his condition precluded his removal home.

Clarence was the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer, was born and reared in Portsmouth. He was one of the brightest pupils of St. Mary's parochial school, studious and a boy of good habits and morals. Two years ago he decided to prepare himself for the priesthood and entered the above college. His last visit home was during the holidays. It is said the had studied unusually hard in preparation for the recent semi-annual examinations. An example of his thrift was shown last summer when he conducted a refreshment stand on the Market street esplanade realizing quite a sum during the vacation period.

Besides the grief stricken parents Clarence is survived by three brothers and as many sitsers; Mrs. Ed Spangler, Wilbur, Alfred, Edna, Helen and Joseph, Jr. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to them in their loss. The funeral is expected to take place from St. Mary's church Thursday morning.

Miss Laura Rebecca Chick.

The funeral services of the late Miss Laura Rebecca Chick will be conducted from the family residence, 1239 Gallia street Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Greenlawn. The last rites of this estimable woman will be conducted by Rev. C. Lloyd Strecker, pastor of Trinity church.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 66. Residence A-666.

Dear Dolly.—I saw a letter in your column a few evenings ago from a mother in regard to young men who had automobiles at their disposal, and I want to say a word in their behalf. This mother is right and she is also wrong. No doubt some things she said are true, but if they are it is the fault of either the girls or their mothers. The young men of this city do not go out into the highways and byways and coax girls to go riding with them. But the girls do roam the streets and stand on corners and coax and beg young men to take them joy riding. I dare say there is not a young man in this town who ever took a girl out riding without her consent. Another thing, a man is not going to take liberties with a girl unless he is invited to do so. It's the girl's fault in almost every instance. And let me also inform the writer of that letter that the "skirts" as she calls them are not always "spring chickens". Some of them are old enough to know better. Instead of the boys hunting young girls, it is the other way. There are women roaming the streets trying to corrupt our young men. I am a young man with an auto and I know what I'm talking about. Another bit of advice to mothers: Why don't you keep your daughters at home after night fall? If it's necessary for them to go out, go with them if you can't trust them, or if you are afraid some man with an auto will jump out of his machine and force them to take a ride against their will. When we have good mothers and good daughters we will have good men and boys. We are now and always will be what you make us.

A YOUNG MAN.

Dear Dolly.—If my son has aspirations for a county office and gets defeated at the primary, can he run any way?

SCIOTOVILLE READER.

He can "run" all right, but not for any office.

Dear Dolly.—I am a very nice girl and I have a fellow come to see me and when he comes I serve ice cream and cake, and he likes me. I am 19 and we are thinking of getting married in June. He is 20. Is that the right age for us?

COUNTRY GAL.

You evidently believe in that old saying "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Are you sure he likes you or the ice cream? It must be lots of bother to make ice cream and cake every time he comes. If he called very often I'd be tempted to go out and get a handful of snow and put a little cream and sugar on it. Why not cut out the "eats" for awhile and see of that's what he is after. You are rather young to get married. A man can't get a license until he is 21 without the consent of his parents.

Dear Miss Wise.—What do you think of a young man who can not say any nice things to a girl when he is with her, but waits until he gets away and then writes them. When he is with her he says so many sarcastic things in a teasing way that is very disagreeable to me. I try not to notice them but they hurt just the same. Isn't there some way that I can make him understand this without coming right out and telling him that I do not like it? He is very nice in every other respect.

MARY.

I suppose he is too bashful to say nice things to your face. If he says anything to offend you come right out and tell him so. That's the quickest way to put a stop to such talk. Your writing is O. K., but you had several words mis-spelled.

Dear Miss Wise.—Please tell me how to bake sugar rolls. I am a house keeper. I can bake anything else, but that. How is my writing and spelling?

Z. B.

Just make them like you would any kind of rolls only sweeten them. Good.

Sedan, O.—Miss Dollie Wise.—We are two girl chums, aged 19, and are expecting to be married Easter and are going to have a double wedding. Would you advise us to be married at home or at the court house? And what would be a suitable color for a wedding dress?

KID CHUMS.

Why not get married at home or in church? If you can afford it, wear a white dress. However, if you decide to get married at the Court House wear your traveling suit. Any of the late spring models would be suitable. The leading colors are putty, sand, battleship gray, Rocky Mountain green, Newport tan, Belgian blue, Russian green, etc.

Miss Dollie Wise.—I am going with a girl and people have been telling her that I am engaged to another girl that lives in town. I love the one at home but not the one in town. What am I to do to prove to her that I love her and not the other one?

RED.

Tell her so, Red. Don't let the neighbors make love for you. It's lots nicer to do it yourself. Try it and see.

Dear Miss Wise.—Does a pre-nuptial shower indicate a speedy marriage, or should the shower follow after the wedding?

A READER.

Certainly not. Showers are usually given by the bride-elect's friends after the engagement has been announced. Post-nuptial showers are often given after marriage when a couple surprise their friends by getting married without having their engagement made pubile.

Dear Miss Wise.—Last fall you published a cure for the drink habit, and if possible would like to have it published again as I have lost it somewhere.

A READER.

Here it is: 5 grains sulphate of iron, 10 grains of magnesia, 1 drachm spirits of nutmeg. Mix and dissolve in half pint luke warm water. Let stand until settled which will be two or three days. Dose—one teaspoonful two or three times a day. The above can be given in any liquid substance and is absolutely harmless.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am greatly troubled with oily hair. Some times I have to wash it twice a week it gets so greasy, and even then it is troublesome. Can you suggest a remedy?

MINNIE.

My dear, this trouble is usually caused by a rundown condition of the system and shold have internal treatment, but here are some external remedies to be used while your physician is building you up. Even in extreme cases, shampooing must not be done oftener than once in three weeks. If the hair becomes too oily, take a cup of corn meal or graham flour, spread it out on a newspaper and sift thoroughly through the hair. Brush out with a soft bristled brush, as stiff bristles stimulates the flow of oil.

Sedan, Ohio—Miss Dollie Wise.—I am a girl 16 years old and am keeping company with a boy 21. Do you think he is too old for me? I love him dearly but he corresponds with another girl and visits her real often, and I am very jealous of him. What would you advise me to do?

A JEALOUS KID.

Would advise you to keep such foolishness out of your head until you have finished school.

Dolly Wise has a letter from a sympathetic friend for the "Worried Wife" who had a letter in this column last week. Call and get it, please.

Dear Dolly.—Please tell me how to act when my fellow comes to see me? Should I run and hide in a corner, or what should I do?

WAIT STATION GIRL.

Just act the same as you do when any one else comes to your house. If he has never been to see you before, invite him in and introduce him to your parents and the other members of the family, so they can pass judgment upon him and decide if he is worthy to call on their daughter.

Watts Station, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Dear Dolly.—Please tell me how to keep from getting dark complexioned.

J. M. S.

If you are naturally fair I don't think your skin will turn dark and if you are naturally dark there is nothing that will make you fair. After washing your face, rub a little cold cream on it and then dust lightly with a good powder and you will look fair enough.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

"That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

1198. A dainty charming model for the Young Miss.

Girls' Dress with Sleeve in either of Two Lengths.

What "little woman" will not be pleased with this dainty model for a best dress, for party or dancing "wear". It is made with soft clinging fulness, and deep tucks in the skirt. The long shoulder is comfortable, and the sleeve stylish in either wrist or elbow length. The blouse waist so becoming to youthful figures has a vest front which may be of contrasting material together with the collar and cuffs. In blue, pink or white batiste, with lace or embroidery this style will be charming. It would also be nice in soft crepe or voile; the vest fronts could be daintily embroidered. For cashmere or plaid suiting, for lawn or chambray—a vest of checked or figured material could be used. The ptatern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 4 yards of 44-inch material for a 10-year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Don't Merely "Stop" a Cough

Stop the Thing that Causes It and the Cough will Stop Itself

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore, when you get a bad cough don't proceed to dose yourself with a lot of drugs that merely "stop" the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause—heal the inflamed membranes. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make an obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy you ever used, at a cost of only 54 cents. No bother to prepare. Full directions with Pinex.

It heals the inflamed membranes so gently and promptly that you wonder how it does it. Also loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Missionary Union of the City of Portsmouth will hold their third quarterly meeting in the First Presbyterian church Thursday, February 25th, which is to be observed as Home Mission Day all over the world. He will have charge of the program for the first hour, from 1 till 2; from 2 to 3 o'clock Mrs. McAfee will have charge. Her subject will be "Mormanism." From 3 to 4 Mrs. Dunning will be in charge. This includes all the churches and missionary societies and any one interested in missions.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

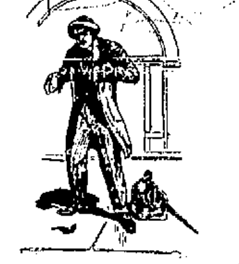
YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

No matter what ails your child a gentle thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs", and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative", because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."



IT TAKES THIS to induce a man to have his watch overhauled. He's got to drop it or put it definitely out of commission before he gives it any attention.

The month of February is a good time to have your watch overhauled. If is is a good watch it is worth taking care of. If it isn't, come in and we'll sell you a good one.

There Would Be Many Orphans In Portsmouth If God Killed Devil

—SAYS REV. C. E. GRIFFIN.

Rev. C. E. Griffin, of Ironton, preached last night his sermon on "Why Doesn't God Kill the Devil?" The speaker declared that the devil and sin are mysteries and as there are mysteries all around us, which we cannot understand, we need not be unduly disturbed about the mystery of the devil and sin. He said that God was neither the author of sin nor the creator of the devil. If God created the devil and was the author of sin He could not be God. There are some things that God cannot do and still be God. For instance God can't sin. It is not a question "Will God Sin?" but that God can not sin.

"If the devil is the author of all evil and the tempter of men to sin, why doesn't God kill him so that man would have no tempter, and consequently never sin? If God should do such a thing He would shut the human race in the prison of compulsory law. It is the opportunity and the refusal to sin that makes a man a free moral nature and thus develops his Christian character, when he refuses to yield to sin.

"If God would kill the devil, there would be many orphans in Portsmouth."

Rev. Griffin closed his sermon with an appeal to the unsaved. There was one who yielded to this appeal. There were many in the service who felt the Divine presence.

Vogel Mill Robbed; Makes Third Time

It has just leaked out that Vogel Bros.' meal and feed mill at No. 1301 Chillicothe street was robbed again a few nights ago for the third time in the past three months.

A small cash drawer was rifled of two dollars in pennies and fifty cents worth of postage stamps. Entrance is thought to have been gained by unhooking a rear door, the robbers locking the door again and leaving the place through the office. They are thought to have been persons very familiar with the premises.

Police were not notified by the firm. Once before a gang of yeggmen blew the safe, wrecking it, though their efforts were for naught, for the safe at the time was not only empty, but was also unlocked.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH

Rev. Hartinger was located here for several years as pastor of Trinity M. E. church, and was one of the most popular divines in the city.

BIBLE INSPIRED BOOK UPHELD BY EVANGELIST

"The Indispensable Book" was the theme of Evangelist Irwin's address at the Christian church in Sciotoville, last night.

The evangelist proved to be an ardent defender of the Bible as an inspired book. The common stock objection to the Bible were paraded before the congregation in rapid succession and virtually dissected one by one by the speaker.

Much corroborative evidence was introduced to prove the historical and scientific statements of the Bible notwithstanding the fact that the Bible contains much data of scientific and historical value, yet the Bible is not so highly esteemed as a book of science, history or literature as it is for the information it gives concerning the future and the destiny of man. It solves a thousand perplexing problems that are not explained by any historian, chemist, geologist, astronomer or other human agency. Fifteen responded to the invitation.

Tonight the subject will be "The New Testament Church." The large chart that hangs just back of the pulpit will be explained. It will be a great opportunity to hear the Scriptures expounded. If you are interested you are invited to be present.

CARE OF THE HAIR

Switches will be unknown among women when they give as much care and attention to their hair and scalp as they do to the face and hands. Women troubled with falling or thin, scraggly hair, excess dandruff or oily condition of the scalp, will do well to shampoo at least every two weeks. For this purpose the best and cheapest shampoo one can get is to dissolve a teaspoonful of eggol in a cup of hot water. This will remove all excess of oil, dirt and grease and cleanse the scalp. A hair tonic should be used every night for a few weekse, then once a month for a while. A delightful tonic, and inexpensive too, can be made by mixing half a pint of alcohol with half a pint of water and adding an ounce of beta quinol. Any woman who will follow this treatment faithfully will soon have a luxuriant growth of hair.

MAYOR LIKES THE ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES

Mayor Frick, in a letter to J. T. Carey, division superintendent of the N. & W., notes with pleasure the success of the electric locomotives now being tested out on one of its eastern divisions and expresses the hope that such service soon may be installed in this city for moving trains within the corporate limits. This, he believes, would prove an effective remedy for controlling traffic and to a certain extent eliminating complaints with reference to smoke.

Change Pleas; Fined

Albert Ramey and Arthur Dunkirk appeared at the mayor's office late Monday afternoon in company with Attorney Alex Woodrow and decided to change their pleas to guilty of resisting an officer. They were fined $ 25 and costs each and paid up.

How to Fight [illegible]culosis

In a paper read last year before the Bexar County Medical Society and published in part in the Louisville "Medical Progress," Dr. J. W. Carhart, of San Antonio, Texas, a physician who has devoted much time to the study of tuberculosis, said: "Since lime salts constitute three-fourths of all the mineral substances of the human body, they must be supplied in the foods or supplemented in mineral preparations, or natural starvation ensues with tuberculosis unchecked. The widespread and unchecked spread of tuberculosis and other preventable diseases is due largely to the decalcified (lime lacking) conditions of multitudes throughout the civilized world."

Thus from another authoritative medical source comes justification for the use of lime in the treatment of tuberculosis.

Since this is one of the ingredients of Eckman's Alterative, much of the success attending the widespread use of this remedy doubtless is due to the combination of this salt in such a way as to render it easily assimilable. It causes no stomach disturbance, and since it contains neither opiates, narcotics nor habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try.

Eckman's Alterative has effected remarkable results in numerous cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and allied chronic affections of the throat and bronchial passages. In many instances such conditions, apparently, have yielded completely to it.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Securing Jury In Manslaughter Case

The trial of the State of Ohio against Ferrie Dillon, Ezra Knight and Roy Blake, opened in common pleas court at Ironton Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, and the greater part of the day was consumed in securing a jury. Judge John C. Milner of this city, is assisting the prosecution.

The defendants are charged with manslaughter for the killing of Loson Watson at the Mt. Vernon school house in Lawrence county on Thanksgiving eve, 1914. Owing to the prominence of the young man who met death at that time and of the young men who are accused of contributing thereto the case will be one of exceptional interest and will be hard fought.

Eighty-nine witnesses have been summoned to testify and more will likely be called. Some of the ablest lawyers in Southern Ohio are engaged in the case. Besides Judge Milner of this city, former Prosecuting Attorney Dickey of Gallipolis, will assist Prosecutor L. K. Cooper and his assistant, M. W. Russell. The attorneys for the defendants are Johnson and Jones, Andrews and Irish, and A. J. Layne.

The greater part of Tuesday's session was consumed in the securing of a jury to try the case.

PROTECTION FOR FUNERALS

The mayor has suggested that the chief of police station a patrolman at street car or railroad crossings when funerals are passing, to guard the interests of those en route to the cemetery. The mayor believes such service would be appreciated by the general public and asks the co-operation of undertakers in keeping the department advised of the funeral hours.

The home of Milty Thornton bids fair to be broken up, the mayor has stepped between him and Mrs. Anna Soper, aged widow of the former's business partner, the late William Soper.

Since her husband's death Mrs. Soper continued to share her apartments with Thornton at 220 Court street. Members of St. Mary's Catholic church have been giving her $1 and $4 per week for her support but after an investigation decided it best that she enter some institution. Rev. Father T. A. Goebel arranged to have her admitted to a Catholic institution in Columbus, although she had not for years attended to her church duties.

Emil Helt too offered a home but she declined it. J. J. Davidson after vainly trying to find her marriage records in an effort to secure a widow's pension for her finally did succeed in having her placed on the soldiers' widow relief fund at $3 per month.

Thornton was placed on the carpet by the mayor Tuesday morning. He was accused of being the agency that interfered with the plans for providing a good home for the aged woman but he denied it. He was told he might as well arrange for other apartments for himself as Mrs. Soper would be made either to enter the infirmary or avail herself of the chances of entering the Emil Helt home or some Catholic institution.

'NOTHER MAN FOR ADAM

The following is the latest effusion of one of the mayor's unknown poetic friends:

"Here's to our Adam, oh long may he rule,
With a wit that is keen and a head that is cool;
On all public questions he's a cure for all ills,
From filtration plants to peddlars of pills.

He's a man of ideas, you can see at a glance,
By the way he has handled our new water plants,
And they say he can spot out a crack in concrete
From the foot of the hill in New Boston's main street.

Without any bosses, he's boss of it all,
And he does it so well that the old city hall
Sits up and takes notice, and even "Law me."
He is going to veto our council, I see.

Well, Mayor, you have lost a few friends, that is true,
But while you were losing you gained a lot, too;
I'll have to admit, you have gotten my goat,
And when primaries come, you'll at least get one vote."

Not only will the dinner be high class, but a splendid social session is promised. The dinner is open to everybody and the invitation to attend is general.

THE GREAT AMERICAN STOMACH

Is it performing its functions along with the kidneys, liver and bowels, so that all are in perfect harmony? Is it doing this, or is it allowing your food to remain partly undigested, sending poisons through the body, causing distress after eating, indigestion, headache, whirring noises in the head, loss of flesh and sallow complexion?

Faust Used Strangle Hold; Kiegler Awarded Decision

Charles Kiegler, local wrestler and steel worker, and holder of the light heavy-weight belt won from Jack Clayton on Labor Day retained his championship Monday night when he won a decision over Harry Faust, German champion, at the Moose hall. The match was witnessed by some of the best known sport fans in the city. The crowd taxed the capacity of the hall.

A preliminary between local boys, Earl King and John Shoemaker excited the crowd into a state where they were eager for the big match to start. King, a 1914 P. H. S. graduate who is now a student of O. S. U., where he is taking a course in wrestling along with other gym work, won two falls from Shoemaker. Jack McClelland, local prize fighter, who is located in Chillicothe refereed the preliminary match while Paul Esselborn acted as time-keeper.

Kiegler went into the ring not in the best of health. He weighed in at 200 and Faust at 206. It will be remembered Kiegler announced that he had retired from the wrestling game December 24, but Faust kept after him for a return match to the draw in Piqua five years ago and he decided to take him on. Kiegler said Monday, "I now expect to meet them all and will never quit until they put me out of the business."

Faust is as fast as he is big, but Kiegler has it all over him for quickness. The two wrestlers went to the mat with nothing but the strangle hold barred. Al Bridwell, well known ball player was chosen from the audience to act as referee. Fred Potts was time-keeper.

Kiegler used his speed, science and endurance to the best advantage. Both men went along at top speed from the start. Very little sweat was to be seen on the big German and as the time neared the 90 minutes mark he stated that he was just getting his second wind, which was taken more as a joke, but it was not but a little over a minute later that he had Kiegler's shoulders pinned to the mat with a full head scissors and wrist lock hold. The exact time was 91 minutes Kiegler used his feet to a good advantage and had the German worried from the start. He tricked time after time and by wiry methods succeeded in pulling out of several tight pinches when it looked as if he would be put down. Faust had stated he would win right off the start but after eight minutes he had changed his mind.

The starting of the second part of the match found both wrestlers going at it easily, each looking for an opening and a good hold. There were tense moments when the German had Kiegler's shoulders near the floor but each time Kiegler would by a sudden twist pull himself out of the hole. Kiegler at last got the chance he had been looking for and in shorter time than it takes to tell he had a toe hold on Faust that made him suffer terrible pain and he quickly gave in. The time was 30 minutes and 20 seconds. It was that same kind of a toe hold that Kiegler had on Faust when he put Faust to the mat in Piqua five years ago.

The final clash opened with both men sparring for a hold and it was but a few seconds before they were on the mat. Hardly had they hit the floor than Faust obtained a strangle hold on Kiegler. Referee called Faust, notifying him that a repetition of the hold would mean the forfeiture of the match to Kiegler. They then went along at a fast clip each one trying hard for an opening. At exactly a quarter to 12 o'clock Faust had his arm around the neck of Kiegler for another strangle hold. Referee Bridwell separated the men and announced Kiegler as the winner.

Faust quickly stepped to the front with an excuse that he could not get a good hold on Kiegler as his body was covered with perspiration, and he felt sure that he could throw him if given another chance. Kiegler at once challenged him to a match on a week from Saturday night in which no holds are barred, the strangle hold being allowed as all others.

After the match a written agreement was drawn up by L. Levi which was signed by both wrestlers. The terms of the argreement were that the winner of the match which is to be held in the Moose hall Saturday February 20, will get two-thirds of the receipts the other third going to the Moose Athletic Club. It will be a catch as catch can match, no holds barred, pin falls only counting and will be for the best two out of three. It will be a match for blood. Faust left Tuesday for Owensboro, Ky., where he is scheduled for a match Tuesday night.

$50 LOAN COMES BACK AS $10,000 GIFT

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Renewed agitation against gambling at baseball parks and on the results of games today brought out a story by a West Side fan, who quotes Frank Schulte as his authority. He says a young semiprofessional player named Jake, who hung around the Boston Barves' clubhouse, borrowed $50 from Joe Connolly very soon after July 4 when the Braves made their wonderful spurt.

As soon as he got the loan, Jake started betting on every game in which James and Rudolph pitched. He speedily ran the $50 into a fat sum. When the Braves landed the National League flag, Jake had a good stake, but said nothing about his winnings.

It was something like a 100 to 1 shot that the Braves would not take four straight from the Athletics. Jake grabbed all the big alluring bets that were offered. He stood to lose every cent he had accumulated, but luck was with him all the way, and when the series ended he had $25,000 to his credit at the bank.

He felt deep gratitude to Connolly for making his fortune possible, and finally gave him a check for $10,000.

BIG MEETING IS ON

New York, Feb. 9.—With the adoption of the 1915 playing schedule as the only stated business on its program the National League met here today for what promised to develop into a general discussion of all questions affecting the welfare of organized baseball. Outside of the conference room, the club managers gave early evidence of much trading in which both players and money were expected to figure.

The matter of raising the draft rule from class A. A. leagues, according to Chairman Herrmann of the National Commission might be discussed by the National league club owners but he was of the opinion that no action would be taken. The effort of several club owners to rescind the recently adopted rule to limit each team to 21 players during the playing season has several opponents among second division team owners who base their arguments on economical reasons.

SPORTLETS

"They've got to give me more money" is being sung sweetly these days by Mike O'Day.

Lincoln, Neb., is making an effort to land George Andres as manager of its ball club.

Manager Herzog of the Reds admits he is willing to trade four of his men. The Queen City fans are willing to trade more than that.

Several American league teams have offered Big Ed Reulbach a contract. Reulbach was recently turned adrift by Brooklyn.

Rudolph and James of the Boston Braves insist that they will win 50 games between them this season. This must be music to the ears of Manager Stallings.

May Enter New York

New York, Feb. 9.—In the event that the International league can obtain the permission of the New York National and American league clubs, it will operate a club in the Borough of the Bronx next season. It is intended to shift the Jersey City franchise to the Bronx.

Maysville To Come Back

According to fans in Maysville that city will come back into the Ohio State with bells on this spring. Maysville has always been a good ball town and if given a winner the old town will turn out large crowds.

Sheckard To Be Manager

New York, Feb. 9.—Jimmy Sheckard, once the Cubs' left infielder, who managed the Cleveland American Association club last year, probably will be appointed manager of the Newarks, to succeed Harry Smith, just released.

Grab It, Johnny

Word from Philadelphia yesterday was that Johnny Kilbane has been offered $5,000 for a six-round go in that city February 22 against Kid Williams, bantam champion.

SHUGRUE VS. GRIFFITH

Akron, O., Feb. 9.—Joe Shugrue the "Jersey skeeter" who meets Freddie Welsh in New York tonight, was signed today by Promoter Bernie Strapp of the Summit A. C. to box Johnny Griffiths 12 rounds in this city the night of Feb. 22. Shugrue has been guaranteed $2,500 with the privilege of 35 per cent of the gross.

NO CHANCE

There is absolutely no chance of a ball player contracting gout during the winter months. He has to buy his own food then.

The fight for first place honors in the Peerless Bowling league has developed into a regular bull dog affair. It is a nip and tuck struggle, between the Kandy Kids and Wilson's Five, who have been tied for the past several weeks are still wrapped up in a death grapple and judging from the way the teams are going it will likely remain that way until these two teams clinch. Last night at the Play House the Kandy Kids beat the Times Specials two out of three and Wilson's Five bested the Play House Five in exactly the same manner.

The Kandy Kids and Times Specials hooked up on alleys 2 and 3 and no wonderful scores were made. Distel, lead off man had high average for the Kandy Kids, while Chris. Malavazos had the honor of rolling high score, 202. Doherty went nicely, while Captain Wanless picked up his totals to a respectable proportion by getting 192 in his last effort Dan Lloyd was high man for the Times Specials.

The Play House Kids made Wilson's Five go some, winning the first game by 8 pins and losing the second by twice this number, due to the fact that Captain Wilson struck out. Fact is that Captain Wilson was the boss bowler of the evening, averaging 196 and a fraction. He hit 'em just right and worked like a Trojan to win for his team. Walters had a fine evening and did not crimp his splendid average. Captain Prediger, as usual, was high man for his team. The scores:

Matty May Use Spitball

Christy Mathewson is seriously considering taking up the spitball to fool opposing batsmen. He has come to the conclusion that he requires some new delivery if he is to continue his success as a star pitcher, and as he has still two more years to remain with the Giants, according to the contract he signed last spring in Marlin, Tex., he is determined to uphold his reputation to the end of his baseball career.

Patterson Is Badly Crippled

Washington, Pa., Feb. 9.—Britain Patterson, left tackle on the Washington and Jefferson college football team the past two years, is crippled probably for life as the result of an injury to his right knee cap sustained in a game with Georgetown at Washington, D. C., last season. Patterson, who weighed 225 pounds in training, now weighs 175 pounds and walks with a crutch.

WANT TO KEEP FRANCHISE

New York, Feb. 9.—At a conference here today with officials of the Federal League, R. J. Haff, a director of the Kansas City club which it was announced yesterday was to be transferred to New York planned to present arguments in favor of the western city in an effort to retain the franchise.

Bresnahan Has Coin

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Chicago National League team, who left Monday for New York to attend the National League meeting, intimated that he might have $30,000 to jingle upon the counter of organized baseball within the next week. When the Cub manager throws this sum upon the counter it is said he will ask that an infielder and an outfielder who hits right handed be handed over to him.

WATER WILL NOT SOUR IF PLACED IN CISTERN

W. L. Bayless, 1407 Lincoln street, in a letter to Mayor Frick, says it has been alleged by several of his neighbors that the city's chemically treated water will sour if placed in cisterns and not be suitable for drinking purposes. He asks for information on the subject and that it be given publicity. The mayor in reply writes as follows:

"Permit me to say that if it is deemed necessary to retain a cistern for the purpose of storing drinking water, that no one need hesitate to fill their cistern with the filtered water from the new plant.

It should be remembered that when the new plant is working perfectly and the chemicals adopted to the conditions of the Ohio river water as it is at its various stages, that this water shall be absolutely pure. Ninety-nine per cent bacteriologically so, free from all acidity conditions and as well void of other elements such as mud and similar foreign matter, therefore nothing remaining whatever to sour or otherwise prevent such water from retaining its same standard of purity as when it leaves the filtering beds.

At this time it may be well to state why the water is, at times, naturally soft, at times, unusually hard, at times, carrying an odor, at times, containing adhesive substances difficult to remove from the vessels, and other imperfections that might be mentioned.

This is largely, if not entirely, due to variation in the quantity of water being pumped from the filtration beds, owing to the numetrous times the pumps are closed down in making adjustments and repairs.

During such periods of recession an irregular supply of water is being handled, while a normal amount of chemicals are being admitted. Thus the abnormal irregular supply of water to and from the pumping station accounts for such varied conditions, which will necessarily have to be corrected by the erecting engineers properly installing regular acting pumps, practical valves in the filtration plant and the coagulating plant that care may be taken of the maximum amount of turpidity that may at any time be prevalent in the river water.

There can be but one reason why any citizen need to store water in their cisterns for domestic usage, and that would be that it becomes somewhat cooler in the cistern during the summer seasons than it would be as it comes from the mains, and therefore may be more pleasant to use where ice is not admitted than if taken direct from the tap.

This city shall have the finest water that is possible to be had from any type of installation, but it may be some time before all of the conditions are entirely overcome.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't look old! Try Grandmother's recipe to darken and beautify faded, lifeless hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

Otway Has Big Revival

Martin Linck, traveling salesman for the Portsmouth Hat Company, reports the village of Otway all wrought up over the big union revival there.

The church was crowded to its utmost capacity Sunday night, the meeting lasting until 1 o'clock Monday morning.

Husband Is O. K.

The mayor is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Charles Whitehead, who is at present nursing a sick mother at Dunkirk, Ind., relative to the recent arrest of her husband. The mayor in reply informs her that Charles is expecting her home, promises that he will reform and never be found unfaithful again, is working and seemingly doing nicely.

Calvary Mission For Deaf Mutes

This mission to the deaf mutes of Portsmouth and vicinity is one of the parochial activities of All Saints' parish. The missioner is the Rev. B. R. Allabough of Cleveland, who visits the parish from time to time. Mr. Allabough is a rightly and canonically ordained priest of the church.

He will be in Portsmouth on Thursday evening, February 11, and will then conduct services in the chapel of All Saints' church on Fourth street, next the church. The occasion will be one of particular interest to all deaf mutes in the community as the missioner will present to Mr. William Cooper of this city, his license as Lay Reader.

Mr. Cooper, who is an Englishman by birth, has had considerable experience as a Lay Reader both in Baltimore and Chicago, and the local congregation is to be congratulated upon securing the services of so experienced and capable a man. The services on Thursday will commence at 8 p. m. All deaf mutes in the city and county are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Cooper will in future conduct a service once a month on a Sunday afternoon in the chapel and will later increase the number of services held if he receives sufficient support and encouragement in his work.

To Make Loose Teeth Firm and Strong

More care and attention are given to teeth today than ever before, says the Manchester Guardian. Children are examined in schools for teeth affections. It has been shown that those little yellow spots are sheltering places for germs that under the cover of these spots eat holes into the hard white enamel. Grit, tartar, hard substances between teeth and gums, cause teeth separation, bring on bleeding and nerve troubles. Soreness and ulcers come from dental microbes. Pyorrhoea does not come all of a sudden. One is told to avoid the yellow coating of the teeth and black on the enamel inside the mouth. Loose teeth cause danger to the entire dental organization.

These troubles can easily be overcome if one will take action early. A good plan is to get from the druggist about four ounces of fluid ergan and use a teaspoonful morning, noon and night, rocking this about in the mouth a minute or so. This washes away the microbes that infest the mouth in sheltered cracks and crannies. The yellow coating peels off over night; in the morning you observe your own white of the teeth. Loose teeth become strong and firm, soreness and teeth disease disappear.

MAY TRANSFER TERRITORY

The Scioto county board of education will be asked within the near future by the Pike county board to transfer a small amount of territory in the north-eastern part of the county to the jurisdiction of the Stockdale school district. The interests of the children in that territory will be better served by the change, according to the Pike county board. The local board has discussed the matter informally heretofore, and has announced that no action will be taken until a thorough investigation of the matter has been made.

Jake Pfau Has Two New Brands Of Bread

Jake Pfau, well known wholesale baker of Eleventh street, is ever thinking about the wants of his patrons and ever ready and willing to give them the very latest in the bread line. When a Times representative called at his place of business Tuesday, he found the genial proprietor at work on two new brands of bread, namely, "California Raisin Bread" made from Sun Maid Raisins, and "Wheat-a-Laxa Bread", made from the whole grain. Mr. Pfau stated that he was confident that he had hit upon two of the biggest winners in the bread line in these two products. The California Raisin Bread looked good enough to eat in the raw state, the raisins particularly tempting to the appetite of the Times man. The bread is made from rich rough which is never touched by hand. The "Wheat-a-Laxa Bread" is made from the entire grain, and as is well known this kind of bread is highly recommended by all physicians.

These two brands were placed upon the market Tuesday, and judging from the big sales recorded Mr. Pfau will have to increase the capacity of his bakery to meet the demand.

The Movies

Marguerite Clark at Lyric Tonight

Pretty, fascinating Marguerite Clark, in the charming soul-stirring romance, "The Crucible," is the good show at the Lyric tonight. This is by all odds the greatest picture attraction of the season. Nothing you have ever seen will compare with this magnificent picture. It is considered everywhere as the most successful of all the "Famous Player Productions," and when you consider what excellent pictures this company has made, you may form some idea how well pleased you will be with "The Crucible." It is in five parts and will take about an hour and a half to show. The admission will be 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for the children. The shows will start at 6:30, 8:00 and 9:30. You better come early.

Tomorrow another "Famous Player Production" will be shown—William Courtleigh in "The Better Man," in four parts. "The Better Man" is something out of the ordinary, something unusually good. It tells a dramatic, romantic story of the struggles of two young clergymen for two great prizes, the heart of a good woman and the Bishopric. The admission tomorrow will be ten cents for adults and five for children.

Thursday we introduce a new picture star who has been making a great many friends everywhere—the beautiful Irene Howley, who plays the title role in "The Lady of Dreams," a feature production from the Biograph studio. It's a splendid picture, a charming love story, mingled with a fairy tale.

"Two Women," on Friday, is a "Broadway Star Feature," featuring Anita Stewart, Julia Swayne Gordon, Harry T. Morey and Harry Northup. With all these clever people in it you know it can't help but be something extra good. These "Broadway Star Features" are all splendid pictures made by the Vitagraph Co.—the best they make—and you will see them all in Portsmouth, as we have arranged for all of them to come either to the Lyric or Columbia Theatres. Davison's Orchestra will be an added attraction at the Lyric tonight.

At The Temple

The Temple theater program for tonight is a Thanhouser feature entitled "Lucy's Elopement, But Too Late for Florence's Wedding," featuring Morris Foster and Mignon Anderson. The third reel is entitled "Putting It Over" showing the possibility in getting married. The fourth reel is a weekly, showing the latest pictures from the seat of war, and the Dance Series No. 5.

Tonight Zudora In The Twenty Million Dollar Mystery

Manager Law says not to miss the wonderful serial picture. See Zudora, heiress to $20,000,000, placed in the guardianship of her uncle, Hassam Ali, a mystic. Hassam Ali is determined to secure the girl's fortune for himself and when she becomes of age he makes every effort to bring about her death. Zudora is in love with a young lawyer, John Storm, and she seeks permission of her miserly uncle to marry him. Hassam Ali promises to grant her wish provided she shall solve twenty of his cases. Zudaro solves nine of the cases when her uncle dies and she is released of her pledge.

At the death of her uncle, Zudora has another suitor for her hand—Jim Baird, a man who has been playing as double to Hassam Ali, but who, through sincere love of the girl, gives up the false life and goes back to his work as a newspaper reporter.

No longer obliged to solve Hassam Ali's cases, Zudora now confronts the greatest mystery of all, which is the mystery of her own life and the ambition to secure the vast fortune of $20,000,000 left her. On looking through her uncle's papers she also finds that her father left her an interest in a diamond mine, and Storm and Baird both lend assistance in trying to regain for her possession of this estate. The Kangaroo in five acts is tomorrow's attraction.

French Remedy Aids Stomach Sufferers

France has been called the nation without stomach troubles. The French have for generations used a simple mixture of vegetable oils that relieve stomach and intestinal ailments and keep the bowels free from foul, poisonous matter. The stomach is left to perform its functions normally. Indigestion and gastritis vanish.

Mr. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading druggist of Chicago, cured himself with this remedy in a short time. The demand is so great that he imports these oils from France and compounds them under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. People everywhere write and testify to the marvelous relief they have received using this remedy—one dose will rid the body of poisonous accretions that have accumulated for years and convince the most chronic sufferer from stomach, liver or intestinal troubles.

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

THEATRICAL

At The Sun

The Barrett Players are presenting the great spectacular play "Faust," at the New Sun theatre for the first half of the week. The big crowd that turned out to see the two opening performances yesterday were well paid. Edmund Carroll in the part of the immortal Mephisto carved a notch high in the estimation of the lovers of good work well done. Strong in the part, he is capable of every detail necessary to make this great production a success. Eddy B. Laffenz, playing the part of "Faust," scored another success, playing well up to the part. Marguerite, the beautiful peasant girl, is a part that gives Anna May an opportunity to appear at her best and the hearty rounds of applause prove her better than anything else her popularity.

This play, dealing much with the sorrows of life and death, has a side that makes one forget the shadows and it is the part of Martha, village gossip and widow, in search of a husband, who is disappointed in her attempts to win Mephisto. Lelia Hill is exceptionally good in this part. Burton Fahr as Marguerite's brother, Valentine, adds much to the show.

Too much credit cannot be given Edmund Carroll for the clever way he directed and costumed this production.

But a big share of the glory will have to be accorded Chas. Hunt. Mr. Hunt built this entire show and his work is that of an artist. Several of the scenes give proof of his ability. The electrical garden shown in the second act is a thing of beauty, a sight that is well worthy of a visit to the show. The Brocken scene is one that will not soon be forgotten by those who see it, inhabited by creatures that make one shudder. This scene closes with a rain of fire that makes one hold their breath for the instant in fear and clamor the next for another view of this wonderful sight.

At the close comes the scene of the Apothesis, beautiful beyond description. One will have to see it to appreciate its beauty.

The painting of this entire production was done by Thurman Bray, the scenic artist of the company. The work on this one production proves Mr. Bray an artist of great ability.

RUSSELLISM

WHAT IS RUSSELLISM

Those who, after reading Mr. C. T. Russell's works "Studies in the Scriptures", believe in the Bible because of his interpretation of the scriptures, are called Russellites, and Pastor Russell has done what none of the so-called Orthodox Churchianity has succeeded yet in doing, (and the 600 creeds of Churchianity of today prove this) he has harmonized the Bible from one end to the other, showing there is no contradiction in them when properly understood. (There are Six Volumes of these studies using over 3000 Scripture quotations, all six Books $1.50 at 2031 Eleventh St.)

What is Pastor Russell's greatest sin against Orthodoxy? He shows conclusively that man has not got an Immortal Soul. No such words occur in connection with each other, anywhere in the Bible. Gen. 3:4-5, is the only place in the whole Bible where there is even an intimation that man is immortal and if any one wants to believe the one here speaking it is their privilege. We prefer God's positive statement as given in Ezek. 18:1 to 4 and especially last two lines of verse 4.

The pastor's second lapse is showing their monstrous doctrine of "The Trinity" is positively unscriptural, a doctrine they are unable to explain and when asked, cry mystery, mystery. Read Mark 13:32, John 8:28, 54, 12:49, 50, 14:28, 31.

Shakespeare said: "He that steals my purse steals trash, 'twas mine, 'tis his, has been a slave to thousands, but he that filches from me my good name steals that which enriches him not but leaves me poor indeed." The Bible Tit. 3:2 says speak evil of no man, also Rom. 12:17, 21, yet these leaders of Churchianity take every opportunity to rehash every scurrilous attack upon the character of Pastor Russell, without proving it true or false. One of their sweet morsels is to charge cruelty to his wife for which she divorced him, while the records open to every one clearly show the judge positively refused her a divorce because of no evidence whatever upon which to give one, and only granted a legal separation because of incompatibility; again they charge the pastor with selling Miracle Wheat, when it is easily proved he never sold any wheat at any time, or received a penny from that sold, or that he ever owned any of the wheat at any time. Our Lord, John 8:44, plainly told the Pharisees (the leader of Churchianity of their day) whose footsteps they were walking in; are the leaders of Churchianity of our day following the lead of the Pharisees of old. Matt. 7:16 and 20. Judge for yourselves.

CAN'T FIND HOME FOR AN AFFLICTED BOY

James Craig, the real hard luck man of Slabtown, was a caller at the mayor's office late Monday afternoon. He asked the mayor to provide him with several days of work and was referred to the service department.

Craig and his family came here from Adams county last fall and have been public charges ever since. A little over a month ago his wife gave birth to a baby. At the same time the three other children of the family became afflicted with whooping cough in its worst form. The mother herself remained bedfast with a bad case of rheumatism. The husband and father was out of work and but for the county authorities the family would have starved. Then came Craig's arrest for alleged stealing an elevator wheel from his former employer, Max Jacobs, a junkman. The latter's son, Attorney Philip Jacobs, who prosecuted the case learned of the family's desperate straits and instead pleaded for mercy for the accused, who was accordingly released. A week later George, a 4-year-old son of the household while playing near a grate fire accidentally set fire to the dress of his 16-year-old brother, Landy, a helpless and born idiot. The mother severely burned her hands and arms in trying to extinguish the flames but finally had presence of mind enough to smother them with a blanket from a nearby bed. The afflicted and deformed boy was frightfully burned. Still more misfortune was in store for the family for the recent flood forced them to vacate the cottage they occupied in Red Row. They found refuge in one of Cadot properties on Front street, just east of Sinton street. The helpless boy, who is of abnormal growth and able to move only on all fours and has to be fed and otherwise attended like an infant, was transferred to the temporary abode in a push cart borrowed for that purpose.

Craig while speaking of the boy's terrible plight at police headquarters Monday admitted that he ought to be in some state institution but said Humane Officer Harry Ball had made futile efforts to get him placed somewhere. He also confirmed the stories of the boy's mistreatment at the hands of a relative, who was since returned to Adams county but said he was unable to be at home all of the time to prevent her cruelty towards his boy.

Officer Grant Goings claims to have seen the woman strike the afflicted child over the head with a club twice because he dared crawl to the front door and peep out. He scored her unmercifully for her inhuman act.

Little boys of the neighborhood laid awake at nights worrying about the helpless one and oftimes shared their ice cream cones and candy with him. He always showed a ravenous appetite for sweets. For the past five years the boy has been subject to fits having as high as a hundred per day.

Persons who have been attracted to the unfortunate's squalid surroundings the habits of his people and the like all agree that it is the most pitiful case in the entire county and one worthy of the greatest consideration at the hands of the charitably inclined persons. Can not a movement be started to find a permanent home for this worst of afflicted children?

New "Judge" Law Goes Into Effect

The law creating a resident judge for each county became effective Tuesday, and instead of three judges for this common pleas district, each county now has its own judge.

Judge L. B. Dill succeeded Judge W. H. Middleton in Pike; Judge W. P. Stephenson became the resident judge of Adams county, and Judge Robert Grimes resident judge of Jackson county. Judges James S. Thomas and E. E. Corn, who with Judge Middleton have been district judges, become the resident judges of their own counties, Scioto and Lawrence, respectively.

Judge W. H. Middleton, who retired from the bench after years of honorable service, has opened a law office in his home town, Waverly, and will practice law there.

WHO WANTS RUGS OR KINDLING?

Last Sunday evening the hall was packed with people.

The music was good, the attention splendid, the order was as usual, the best.

The text was Ruth 1:21.

Last night Miss Pearce, a returned missionary, spoke to a large company of children at the hall on "Life in China."

The industrial end of our work is dragging somewhat, owing to our being unable to find sale for our kindling. Also to get orders for our rag rugs.

Many poor women have helped themselves this cold winter, by sewing carpet rags in our sewing rooms. Our orders are now all made up. We have a great many rags now in balls, ready for the weaver. We want to urge our friends to telephone us their order for new clean rag rugs any size or color. We must have an outlet for our rugs or we cannot continue our work among these poor mothers, who have an ambition to help themselves. If you have to have a rug made later why not do it now? It will give work to some deserving woman. Won't you help us to help them?

Also our kindling is fine and dry. We sell it at 10 cents per bundle delivered at your home. Why not give us an order for a few bushels? It will help us to help some poor man in off the street. It will get him a bed, a meal or put shoes on his feet. You can help in the mission work, by giving us orders for rugs or kindling.

Our clothing rooms will be open to the public tomorrow from 12:30 to 5 p. m. The prices are very low. Anyone in need of cheap clothing will do well to come in. We want your cast-off clothing. We want your waste paper of all kinds. Call B. 409.

LAKE TRADE OPENS SOON

Judging from the way empties are being rushed back East the movement of coal from the Virginias over the N. & W. to the Great Lakes will begin as usual March 1.

While the N. & W. did not carry quite as much coal last year as the year before at the same time it showed an increase over two years ago. The lake coal trade has grown with leaps and bounds and the N. & W. has just completed a big dock at Sandusky with twice the capacity of its old one, which also continues in use. If trade conditions show any improvements at all the prospects are that the road will carry more coal this year than ever before.

SELBY FOREMEN HOLD MONTHLY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Superintendents' and Foremen's association, an organization of Selby men to promote concert and efficiency in operations, was held Monday afternoon, in G. A. R. hall, with an unusually large attendance. At 4:30 a piping hot dinner, prepared and served by colored caterers was disposed of with a relish that left no doubt as to its superior quality. This feast, which is usual, songs by a quartet and an address by some outsider on the operation of some other business, give zest to the shop discussions which follow and which grow so general and animated that they are often protracted to a late hour. On this occasion President Gilliland announced that there would be a song without request. A quartet, composed of Gilliland, Burkle, Lorey, Goddard gave a vocal number and responded to a unanimous request in the shape of applause with a second selection.

Following this Editor Vallee Harold talked for half an hour on the making of a newspaper and was given cordial hearing. No non-members are permitted at the business sessions of the association and the guests withdrew during a three minutes recess that was announced at the conclusion of Mr. Harold's talk.

DUCK HUNTERS, BEWARE

Deputy Game Warden Judge Ball of this district gave out sad news for the duck hunters Tuesday.

He announced that following a law enacted at the last meeting of the Ohio Legislature there would be no spring duck hunting beginning with 1915. The duck season from now on will extend from September 1 to December 15 of each year.

"The ducks are protected in the spring because they go north to breed and greater number," said Judge Ball Tuesday.

May Use Photos As "Crime Preventers"

The mayor threatened to call in a photographer to snap Marion Virgin, white, and Bess Hurd, black, when they appeared before him on disorderly charges Tuesday morning. His idea was to use the photos as a warning to others, as to what they might expect.

The colored woman jumped to her feet exclaiming "Naw sah, naw sah, I'm not gwine to have my picture took!" Bailiff Joe Stokley had difficulty quieting her. The two were caught in a raid on "Peggy" Davis' shanty in Paradise alley late Monday night, Officers Cooper and Burns finding them in a compromising position. The mayor fined them $25 each.

Receiver Answers

Charles Weyand, receiver for the Brodt Shoe company, through his attorneys, Bannon and Bannon, filed an answer in common pleas court Tuesday morning to the suit of Walby H. Gillett, a traveling salesman, who seeks to recover the sum of $331.60, which he claims is due him as a balance for services as salesman for the company.

Mr. Weyand denies the existence of a contract between Gillett and the company such as Gillett claims was made at the time he took employment, by the conditions of which he claims the alleged balance. Gillett hails from Indianapolis.

Have You A Hidden Voice? If You Think So, Go And Have It Tested

Are there any "hidden voices" in Portsmouth?

Prof. Theophilus E. Fitz, of New York City, who is in the city until the middle of March, to give a short course in vocal instruction to the choir of the First Christian church, and to any others who are interested, says there are many beautiful "hidden voices" among the people of this city. He will be at the First Christian church where he can be reached by phone No. 962 X and is ready to prove what he says.

Prof. Fitz has developed a system of his own, entirely new, whereby he can tell the quality of a voice, its power and range, before it is developed. He can test these possibilities in children 12 to 14 years of age as well as in older people, he says.

The method includes external measurements of the resonating cavities, and other special tests, yet the applicant is not required to sing. Prof. Fitz wishes it understood that this method is not a "sensational affair," but "has been thoroughly tested and has the endorsement of some of the leading vocal teachers of New York City, as well as of prominent psychologists and physicians in the leading schools of the country."

In Oscar Saenger's studio in New York Prof. Fitz gave demonstrations of his methods, testing over sixty of his pupils, including several Metropolitan and Century Opera singers. "The test not only proved infallible upon those who had already been developed, but has since worked out on the undeveloped singers."

He has also given demonstrations in many other places, and has explained the system to the supervisors and teachers of music in the public schools of Brooklyn and New York City, having done so at the request of Dr. Frank R. Rix, supervisor of music of Greater New York.

Prof. Fitz says he is willing, while in Portsmouth, to test any voice absolutely free, and will give the result of the examination immediately. Appointments will have to be made for such special tests by telephone.

The first rehearsal of the choir will be held this evening, and already about fifty have signified their intention of taking the course.

Prof. Fitz has just returned from New York, and on his way East stopped off in Philadelphia and heard Billy Sunday for the first time. When he said he was from Portsmouth, he was given a seat in the Sunday party, and brings back a new story from Sunday. Billy said: "If I should preach what some of the ministers of Philadelphia, and others in this city would like to have me preach, when I died and went to heaven I would get the axe where Queen Elizabeth wore the ruff."

Sixth Street Feared Aerial Invasion

William "Button" Scott appeared in his "nighties" and led the fruitless investigation. He stated Tuesday that he thought for a moment that Count Von Zeppelin had mistaken the fair River City for the hostile English coast.

The mayor after patiently waiting for the owners of the Cook restaurant property on Tenth street to raze the fire ruins, Tuesday directed Chief McCarty to engage Contractor Lucas to do the work.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer them. And since this is true we know from the great many splendid letters written on the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful relief, how it seemed to allow the muscles to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system. Such helps as "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful influence upon babies of the future. Science says that an infant derives its sense and builds its character from cutaneous impressions. And a tranquil mother certainly will transmit a more healthful influence than if she is extremely nervous from undue pain. This is what a host of women believe who used "Mother's Friend."

These points are more thoroughly explained in a little book mailed free.

"Mother's Friend" is sold in all drug stores. Write for book. Bradfield Regulator Co., 411 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

SENATE IN AN ALL NIGHT SESSION ON THE SHIP BILL

CAUSE THE ARREST OF REPUBLICAN ABSENTEES

Washington, Feb. 9.—A half score of wearied eyed senators were in their seats at dawn today when the second all night session of the battle over the administration ship purchase bill drew to its close with the Republicans again pitting their physical endurance against that of the Democrats in an effort to delay a vote on the measure until the expiration of the present congress.

Senator Jones, of Washington, had held the floor virtually all night opposing the bill. He began his address late yesterday when a parliamentary struggle disclosed the fact that the Democrats were again in control of a majority vote of the senate, the mobilization of their forces having been completed with the arrival of Senators Newlands and Smith of South Carolina.

At 6 a. m., today the senate had been in session continuously for eighteen hours. Republican leaders insisted they could keep up the fight until March 4 if necessary. The Democrats were equally insistent that they could retain a majority within call and determined to carry the struggle to the bitter end.

Throughout the night the Democrats made few efforts to interrupt Senator Jones. Ante rooms of the senate chamber had been hastily fitted with cots and blankets and in these esnators snatched a few hours of sleep. Senator Fletcher, in charge of the shipping bill, remained at his desk all night stretched out over two chairs and dozing fitfully. One or two of his Democratic colleagues and an equal number of Republicans were always in the chamber.

Threaten The Arrest of Absentees

Senator Jones was granted a brief respite at midnight when Senator Fletcher demanded a roll call to ascertain if a quorum was present. A preliminary struggle ensued, Senator Fletcher finally having adoted a motion for the arrest of absentees. He withdrew it, however, before the writs actually were issued and the senate settled down to the monotony of Senator Jones' long address.

During the debate on the motion the roll was called several times and the largest number of senators to respond was fifty. They came in from the committee rooms, many with ruffled hair and wrinkled clothing, indicating that they had been sleeping when the whirr of the call bells summoned them back.

The pending question upon which Senator Jones held the floor was Senator Fletcher's motion to amend Senator Clarke's motion to recommit the shipping bill. The amendment would require the committee to return the bill forthwith bearing amendments which are said to have been decided upon in order to obtain for the measure the support of Senator Norris, Progressive Republican.

Holds Floor For Over Thirteen Hours

Senator Jones yielded the floor at 8:20 a. m. to Senator Bristow, who immediately made a point of no quorum. Senator Jones had spoken 13 hours and 55 minutes. His only relief during the night was at calls for a quorum which took one hour and forty-five minutes. The speech was surpassed for its length only by that of Senator LaFollette, who spoke 18 hours and 20 minutes against the Aldrich-Vreeland currency law and by Senator Burton, who spoke more than 14 hours on a river and harbor measure.

After the quorum was obtained Senator McCumber, another Republican began to speak.

Order Arrest Of Republican Absentees

Drastic steps were proposed by Democratic senators to break down the opposition to the bill by compelling constant attendance of all the opposition.

Senator Fletcher, immediately after Senator McCumber began to speak, got an order passed for the arrest of Senators Bankhead, Borah, Burton, Camden, Catron, Goff, Hardwick, Hitchcock, Lodge, Oliver, O'Gorman, Root, Sterlin, Sutherland Vardaman and Weeks all absent. Senator Reed presented an order to compel each senator to remain in the chamber until excused. Senator Gallinger denounced the order as outrageous and a prolonged debate followed.

WOMEN IN TRENCHES; FIGHTING IN EAST GROWS MORE TENSE

Petrograd, Feb. 9 (via London)—The engagements are growing in intensity at the two extremities of the eastern battle front, in East Prussia as well as in the Carpathians, according to information reaching Petrograd today. The same news sets forth that on the Warsaw front the battle has subsided.

The fighting line from the province of Plock in Russian Poland, as far north as Tilsit, in East Prussia is virtually continuous. The Germans today apparently are taking the offensive from Gumbinnen and the Maseuran lakes as far south as Lipno, in Poland on the right bank of the Vistula.

A dispatch reaching here from Warsaw says that among the prisoners taken by the Russians in the fighting at the junction of the Bzura river were a number of German women. According to this message some of these women were found with rifles in their hands in the first line of trenches.

MORGAN ART TREASURES TO BE SOLD

New York, Feb. 9.—The Morgan Porcelains, the world's greatest collections of ceramics, will be disposed of piece meal or in small groups according to the firm of art dealers which has just purchased the collection for $3,900,000. Such a disposition of these art treasures will make the Altman collection, recently given outright to the city by will, the most important on extant.

No announcement has as yet been made regarding the paintings and other art treasures left by J. P. Morgan. In his will he left it to the discretion of his son, J. P. Morgan, whether all or any should be sold.

HEAD OF U. S. STEEL CORPORATION SEES GOOD TIMES AHEAD

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—Courage and co-operation in business and confidence in a restoration of prosperity, was the advice expressed by James A. Ferrell, president of the United Steel Corporation in an address before the engineer's society of Western Pennsylvania here last night.

Among reasons for encouragement Mr. Ferrell quoted eminent European and American authorities as calculating that the United States' excess of exports over imports in 1915 may easily reach one billion dollars, and he declared that the balance of trade in favor of the United States for the opening month of the year is at the rate of $1,500,000,000 a year.

"The years of greatest prosperity in the United States have been when balances were largely in our favor," asserted Mr. Ferrell.

"I feel safe in saying that if you will strain a point just now and trade a little more with each other and talk encouragingly of conditions rather than pessimistically, the business of the country will take on a momentum which will carry us into better times and what is more important create more employment for labor. Our best efforts should be put forth to stimulate activity in business and do everything practicable to increase the number of working people not only in the industries in this community, but throughout the whole country.

"The elements of prosperity are at hand; the developments from day to day are favorable. The steel trade has been called the barometer of business; there is a marked increase in orders and in operations, more men are obtaining employment and the trade movement is progressing and encouraging and we should do everything practicable to sustain and advance it."

Akron Man Murders Wife And Then Puts End To Own Life

Akron, Feb. 9—Joe Crites, 45, who shot and instantly killed his wife and seriously injured E. L. Anderson, 52, contractor, at his home yesterday, died in the city hospital this morning. Crites turned the weapon on himself when cornered by detectives. The shot entered his stomach and passed entirely through his body. He was unconscious when taken to the hospital and remained in that condition until 7:15 a. m. today when he died.

Anderson, who received a bullet in the right shoulder and another through his wrist, will recover. He is conscious but refuses to discuss the shooting.

EXPORTS GAIN LEVEL IN VARIOUS LINES

Washington, Feb. 9—Exports of American manufacturers in December last regained the level shown for the same month in 1913, a decrease of ten per cent in finished manufactures being more than offset by gains in manufactured foodstuffs.

A statement by the department of commerce today shows that in certain lines of manufactures, however, exports made phenomenal gains compared with December a year ago. Among the more notable increases were: Commercial automobiles, from $101,000 to $3,333,000; cotton knit goods, $295,000 to over $2,000,000; woolen clothing, $183,000 to $1,333,000; other woolen goods, including blankets, $103,000 to $2,725,000; rubber boots and shoes, $84,000 to $864,000; sole leather, $354,000 to $3,600,000; upper leather, $1,750,000.

Zinc increased during the same period from 137,000 pounds to 36,666,000 pounds, while metal working machinery increased in value from $1,350,600 to $2,432,000.

An unusually large proportion of the exports are now going to Europe.

SHIP BUILDERS ARE RUSHED

New York, Feb. 9.—The greatest activity in ship building in many years in this country is now under way, according to shipping men in statements made here today. Every firm on the Atlantic sea board has more orders than it can fill for new vessels and the same activity is said to prevail on the Pacific coast.

FEAR LIVES OF AMERICANS MAY BE ENDANGERED

Washington, Feb. 9—The German declaration of a war zone around the British Isles and the hoisting of the American flag on the British liner Lusitania continues to be topics of widespread comment in official and diplomatic circles, and the receipt of the German war office memorandum from Ambassador Gerard and a report on the Lusitania incident from Ambassador Page are eagerly awaited here. Until these are received the Washington government will take no action in the matter.

The situation which has arisen as a result of the German declaration and the Lusitania incident was up for discussion today between President Wilson and his cabinet.

Officials are said to be much concerned over prospects that the prescription of the war zone and the use of a neutral flag by war vessels as a stratagem of war may endanger lives of Americans whose right to travel on neutral ships in war times, it is understood, will be vigorously defended by the Washington government.

BRITISH NEWSPAPER DECRIES USE OF U. S. FLAG BY LUSITANIA

London, Feb. 9—Asserting that the Lusitania adopted "a permissible strategem" in hoisting the American flag to avoid danger in the final stage of her dash for Liverpool, the Manchester Guardian declares "an act may be perfectly lawful without being expedient or altogether fair." The paper says:

"The fact that our fastest liner had to change her flag has shocked our pride as much as the loss of the ship would have shocked our humanity. If all, or any, of our merchant liners were to do the same the result would be, as American papers are pointing out, to diminish the value of protection given by the American flag. Not only would that be undignified in us and unworthy the nation which rules the seas, but it would also be unfair to the United States and it would reflect on us the same indignation as was aroused by Germany's threat to disregard neutral flags."

ENDORSES FRATERNITIES

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 9—Membership in college fraternities was strongly endorsed by Dr. Edgar F. Smith, provost of the University of Pennsylvania, in an address to the freshmen class yesterday. He declared that the 32 general and academic chapters at Pennsylvania are "established institutions for moral and scholastic betterment" and urged the first year men to affiliate themselves with some one of them.

UP THEY GO! BEANS AND CRACKERS

Chicago, Feb. 9—War demand for navy beans has increased the price about $1 a bushel within the last few weeks. The price of crackers, following the rise in wheat, advanced from two to five cents a pound in many of the large grocery establishments here yesterday.

HAMBURG BUYS FOODSTUFFS

Hamburg, (Via The Hague and London), Feb. 9.—The council has appropriated 12,000,000 marks ($3,000,000) with which to purchase a supply of foodstuffs, fodder and other articles so that the city may be prepared for eventualities.

Faust Used Strangle Hold; Kiegler Awarded Decision

Charles Kiegler, local wrestler and steel worker, and holder of the light heavy-weight belt won from Jack Clayton on Labor Day, retained his championship Monday night when he won a decision over Harry Faust, German champion, at the Moose hall. The match was witnessed by some of the best known sport fans in the city. The crowd taxed the capacity of the hall.

A preliminary between local boys, Earl King and John Shoemaker excited the crowd into a state where they were eager for the big match to start. King, a 1914 P. H. S. graduate who is now a student of O. S. U., where he is taking a course in wrestling along with other gym work, won two falls from Shoemaker. Jack McClelland, local prize fighter, who is located in Chillicothe refereed the preliminary match while Paul Esselborn acted as timekeeper.

Kiegler went into the ring not in the best of health. He weighed in at 200 and Faust at 206. It will be remembered Kiegler announced that he had retired from the wrestling game December 21, but Faust kept after him for a return match to the draw in Piqua five years ago and he decided to take him on. Kiegler said Monday, "I now expect to meet them all and will never quit until they put me out of the business."

Faust is as fast as he is big, but Kiegler has it all over him for quickness. The two wrestlers went to the mat with nothing but the strangle hold barred. Al Bridwell, well known ball player was chosen from the audience to act as referee. Fred Potts was timekeeper.

Kiegler used his speed, science and endurance to the best advantage. Both men went along at top speed from the start. Very little sweat was to be seen on the big German and as the time neared the 90 minutes mark he stated that he was just getting his second wind, which was taken more as a joke, but it was not but a little over a minute later that he had Kiegler's shoulders pinned to the mat with a full head scissors and wrist lock hold. The exact time was 91 minutes. Kiegler used his feet to a good advantage and had the German worried from the start. He tricked time after time and by wiry methods succeeded in pulling out of several tight pinches when it looked as if he would be put down. Faust had stated he would win right off the start but after eight minutes he had changed his mind.

The starting of the second part of the match found both wrestlers going at it easily, each looking for an opening and a good hold. There were tense moments when the German had Kiegler's shoulders near the floor but each time Kiegler would by a sudden twist pull himself out of the hole. Kiegler at last got the chance he had been looking for and in shorter time than it takes to tell he had a toe hold on Faust that made him suffer terrible pain and he quickly gave in. The time was 30 minutes and 20 seconds. It was that same kind of a toe hold that Kiegler had on Faust when he put Faust to the mat in Piqua five years ago.

The final clash opened with both men sparring for a hold and it was but a few seconds before they were on the mat. Hardly had they hit the floor than Faust obtained a strangle hold on Kiegler. Referee called Faust, notifying him that a repetition of the hold would mean the forfeiture of the match to Kiegler. They then went along at a fast clip each one trying hard for an opening. At exactly a quarter to 12 o'clock Faust had his arm around the neck of Kiegler for another strangle hold. Referee Bridwell separated the men and announced Kiegler as the winner.

Faust quickly stepped to the front with an excuse that he could not get a good hold on Kiegler as his body was covered with perspiration, and he felt sure that he could throw him if given another chance. Kiegler at once challenged him to a match on a week from Saturday night in which no holds are barred, the strangle hold being allowed as all others.

After the match a written agreement was drawn up by L. Levi which was signed by both wrestlers. The terms of the agreement were that the winner of the match which is to be held in the Moose hall Saturday February 20, will get two-thirds of the receipts the other third going to the Moose Athletic Club. It will be a catch as catch can match, no holds barred, pin falls only counting and will be for the best two out of three. It will be a match for blood. Faust left Tuesday for Owensboro, Ky., where he is scheduled for a match Tuesday night.

$50 LOAN COMES BACK AS $10,000 GIFT

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Renewed agitation against gambling at baseball parks and on the results of games today brought out a story by a West Side fan, who quotes Frank Schulte as his authority. He says a young semiprofessional player named Jake, who hung around the Boston Braves' clubhouse, borrowed $50 from Joe Connolly very soon after July 4 when the Braves made their wonderful spurt.

As soon as he got the loan, Jake started betting on every game in which James and Rudolph pitched. He speedily ran the $50 into a fat sum. When the Braves landed the National League flag, Jake had a good stake, but said nothing about his winnings.

It was something like a 100 to 1 shot that the Braves would not take four straight from the Athletics. Jake grabbed all the big alluring bets that were offered. He stood to lose every cent he had accumulated, but luck was with him all the way, and when the series ended he had $25,000 to his credit at the bank.

He felt deep gratitude to Connolly for making his fortune possible, and finally gave him a check for $10,000.

BIG MEETING IS ON

New York, Feb. 9.—With the adoption of the 1915 playing schedule as the only stated business on its program the National League met here today for what promised to develop into a general discussion of all questions affecting the welfare of organized baseball. Outside of the conference room, the club managers gave early evidence of much trading in which both players and money were expected to figure.

The matter of raising the draft rule from class A. A. leagues, according to Chairman Herrmann of the National Commission might be discussed by the National league club owners but he was of the opinion that no action would be taken. The effort of several club owners to rescind the recently adopted rule to limit each team to 21 players during the playing season has several opponents among second division team owners who base their arguments on economical reasons.

SPORTLETS

"They've got to give me more money" is being sung sweetly these days by Mike O'Day.

Lincoln, Neb., is making an effort to land George Andres as manager of its ball club.

Manager Herzog of the Reds admits he is willing to trade four of his men. The Queen City fans are willing to trade more than that.

Several American league teams have offered Big Ed Reulbach a contract. Reulbach was recently turned adrift by Brooklyn.

Rudolph and James of the Boston Braves insist that they will win 50 games between them this season. This must be music to the ears of Manager Stallings.

May Enter New York

New York, Feb. 9.—In the event that the International league can obtain the permission of the New York National and American league clubs, it will operate a club in the Borough of the Bronx next season. It is intended to shift the Jersey City franchise to the Bronx.

Maysville To Come Back

According to fans in Maysville that city will come back into the Ohio State with bells on this spring. Maysville has always been a good ball town and if given a winner the old town will turn out large crowds.

Sheckard To Be Manager

New York, Feb. 9.—Jimmy Sheckard, once the Cubs' left infielder, who managed the Cleveland American Association club last year, probably will be appointed manager of the Newarks, to succeed Harry Smith, just released.

Grab It, Johnny

Word from Philadelphia yesterday was that Johnny Kilbane has been offered $5,000 for a six-round go in that city February 22 against Kid Williams, bantam champion.

SHUGRUE VS. GRIFFITH

Akron, O., Feb. 9.—Joe Shugrue the "Jersey skeeter" who meets Freddie Welsh in New York tonight, was signed today by Promoter Bernie Strapp of the Summit A. C. to box Johnny Griffiths 12 rounds in this city the night of Feb. 22. Shugrue has been guaranteed $2,100 with the privilege of 35 per cent of the gross.

NO CHANGE

There is absolutely no chance of a ball player contracting gout during the winter months. He has to buy his own food then.

The fight for first place honors in the Peerless Bowling league has developed into a regular bull dog affair. It is a nip and tuck struggle, between the Kandy Kids and Wilson's Five, who have been tied for the past several weeks are still wrapped up in a death grapple and judging from the way the teams are going it will likely remain that way until these two teams clinch. Last night at the Play House the Kandy Kids beat the Times Specials two out of three and Wilson's Five bested the Play House Five in exactly the same manner.

The Kandy Kids and Times Specials hooked up on alleys 2 and 3 and no wonderful scores were made. Distel, lead off man had high average for the Kandy Kids, while Chris. Malavazos had the honor of rolling high score, 202. Doherty went nicely, while Captain Wanless picked up his totals to a respectable proportion by getting 192 in his last effort. Dan Lloyd was high man for the Times Specials.

The Play House Kids made Wilson's Five go some, winning the first game by 8 pins and losing the second by twice this number, due to the fact that Captain Wilson struck out. Fact is that Captain Wilson was the boss bowler of the evening, averaging 198 and a fraction. He let 'em just right and worked like a Trojan to win for his team. Walters had a fine evening and did not crimp his splendid average. Captain Prediger, as usual, was high man for his team. The scores:

Matty May Use Spitball

Christy Mathewson is seriously considering taking up the spitball to fool opposing batsmen. He has come to the conclusion that he requires some new delivery if he is to continue his success as a star pitcher, and as he has still two more years to remain with the Giants, according to the contract he signed last spring in Marlin, Tex., he is determined to uphold his reputation to the end of his baseball career.

C., last season. Patterson, who weighed 225 pounds in training, now weighs 175 pounds and walks with a crutch.

WANT TO KEEP FRANCHISE

New York, Feb. 9.—At a conference here today with officials of the Federal League, D. J. Haff, a director of the Kansas City club which it was announced yesterday was to be transferred to New York planned to present arguments in favor of the western city in an effort to retain the franchise.

Bresnahan Has Coin

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Chicago National League team, who left Monday for New York to attend the National League meeting, intimated that he might have $30,000 to jingle upon the counter of organized baseball within the next week. When the Cub manager throws this sum upon the counter it is said he will ask that an infielder and an outfielder who hits right handed be handed over to him.

WATER WILL NOT SOUR IF PLACED IN CISTERN

W. L. Bayless, 1407 Lincoln street, in a letter to Mayor Erick, says it has been alleged by several of his neighbors that the city's chemically treated water will sour if placed in cisterns and not be suitable for drinking purposes. He asks for information on the subject and that it be given publicity. The mayor in reply writes as follows:

"Permit me to say that if it is deemed necessary to retain a cistern for the purpose of storing drinking water that no one need hesitate to fill their cistern with the filtered water from the new plant.

It should be remembered that when the new plant is working perfectly and the chemicals adapted to the conditions of the Ohio river water as it is at its various stages, that this water shall be absolutely pure. Ninety-nine per cent bacteriologically so, free from all acidity conditions and as well void of other elements such as mud and similar foreign matter, therefore nothing remaining whatever to sour or otherwise prevent such water from retaining its same standard of purity as when it leaves the filtering beds.

At this time it may be well to state why the water is, at times, naturally soft, at times, unusually hard, at times, carrying an odor, at times, containing adhesive substances difficult to remove from the vessels, and other imperfections that might be mentioned.

This is largely, if not entirely, due to variation in the quantity of water being pumped from the filtration beds, owing to the numerous times the pumps are closed down in making adjustments and repairs.

During such periods of recession an irregular supply of water is being handled, while a normal amount of chemicals are being admitted. Thus the abnormal irregular supply of water to and from the pumping station accounts for such varied conditions, which will necessarily have to be corrected by the erecting engineers properly installing regular acting pumps, practical valves in the filtration plant and the coagulating plant that care may be taken of the maximum amount of turbidity that may at any time be prevalent in the river water.

There can be but one reason why any citizen need to store water in their cisterns for domestic usage, and that would be that it becomes somewhat cooler in the cistern during the summer seasons than it would be as it comes from the mains, and therefore may be more pleasant to use where ice is not admitted than if taken direct from the tap.

This city shall have the finest water that is possible to be had from any type of installation, but it may be some time before all of the conditions are entirely overcome.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. CROSS.

We were rejoiced to see that a Portsmouth man in the person of Mr. J. E. Cross was recognized by the new administration of affairs at Columbus and was appointed to one of the most important offices in the gift of the governor. We are always glad to see Portsmouth recognized, for every little bit helps the town along and helps to keep it before the eyes of the world. When the Democrats were in control at Columbus we were always willing to do all we could to help some deserving citizen land in office to which he aspired, and when the Republicans are in we are equally glad to see good men put on the firing line.

In the case of Mr. J. E. Cross we are doubly pleased to tender our congratulations, for he is a clean, honest, thoroughly capable young man. He merits the position not only on that account but also because of long and faithful party service. There never has been any question of Joe Cross' Republicanism and there never has been a time when he was not ready to do his share of the fighting. With it all he has been a fair opponent, a decent opponent, a man whom a member of the opposition party respected and esteemed.

THE VALUES OF LAND.

The Jackson Standard-Journal has some more to say about Carp Stevenson and his big corn yield, mention of which was made some weeks ago. It says:

"The article about Carp Stevenson's corn attracted the attention of the Gallia Times and the Portsmouth Times, and the latter very courteously gave credit to the Standard Journal, with the result that a Portsmouth man sent Stevenson a letter yesterday.

"Complimenting him upon his yield, he remarked that the charge of two dollars for rent is low, adding that it is ten dollars in Scioto. Then he proceeded to ask questions about Stevenson's system of cultivation.

"The Portsmouth man should stop paying ten dollar rents. He can find a thousand farms in Jackson county, which can be bought outright for ten dollars an acre, acres of land, which will produce 80 to 120 bushels of corn annually for an indefinite period, after two or three years of preparation. Scores of our farmers averaged 60 to 70 bushels of corn in 1914."

Well, anyway, if they do go ahead and pave that West Side road at the same time as the rest of the roads leading into Portsmouth, a use can be found for the old canal bed other than forming an adjunct to the thrifty farmers who have been plowing it up each year. The Chillicothe pike joy riders who are worrying Charlie Hill so much can plough their way through the canal bed in order to dodge the paving and the temporary road, that is if they can see their way through that magnificent corn crop some of Charlie's neighbors usually raise on the canal.

We really feel like tapping Adam on the wrist. Here comes a man who said in 1907 that the valve of the Union street pumping station leaked and although there have been two Republican and one Democratic mayor since then, the leak has never been repaired. And Adam is therefore to blame. Shame upon you Adam. Where were you in 1907 when Stewart Walker made his discovery? Didn't you know that you would be mayor in 1915 and that there would be a flood then? You are decidedly criminally negligent of your duties for not knowing and taking cognizance of the complaint made eight years ago.

It should be pasted away in a scrap book that the Hon. William E. Sprague voted to emasculate and destroy the Workmen's Compensation act which has worked out to the entire satisfaction of everybody except the liability insurance agencies and the damage suit lawyers. Victims of accidents now get all the awards and do not have to divide with any one or pay court costs, as under the old plan to which Mr. Sprague seems wedded.

Gov. Willis announces he is soon going to appoint an oil inspector. Coincidentally George Keller packed his grip and began saving up to make a trip to the capital. No, George isn't after the main job—he just wants a crumb.

And a man came out of Adams county and copped the fat plum from under the noses of the patriots of Scioto who had been sitting around and looking longingly and lovingly at the tree on which it grew.

BARBERS' LICENSE LAW.

Col. Sibley, of the Gallipolis Tribune, comes to the front with a few suggestions for amending the proposed law to license barbers. He says that a sincere law for barbers, based on the needs of their customers, would require them, on pain of heavy penalties, to cut a man's hair as ordered, to keep their razors sharp, to cut out the onion and garlic diet, and not to go home to meals on Saturdays. Another provision of such a law would prohibit them jerking their combs through the hair of men whose locks are thinning under the destructive influence of time, not to mention a requirement that all hair tonics, shampoo fluids and cosmetics should have the endorsement of the state board of health.

Another thing that would be of convenience to customers would be a cigar holder and lighter attached to each chair and a light lunch served on the side to each customer who had to wait more than ten minutes for his turn.

Judging by the way the rest of those Colorado labor leaders sailed into young Johnnie Rockefeller after his famous kiss and make up seance with Mother Jones we would remark, as an unprejudiced observer, that there seemed to be some jealousy extant. The next thing we hear Mother Jones will find her sincerity as a true friend of the cause in question.

Most editors are so patient and long-suffering by practice that, when prominent citizens come around and take an hour or two of the editorial time letting out in their unobtrusive way how much more they know about the newspaper business than the people trained in it, they grin and bear it, recognizing it as one of the afflictions which custom has linked onto the business.—Marion Star.

West Virginia is reaping the whirlwind from electing such a character as H. D. Hatfield as governor. Hatfield did not like the citizens of Williamson, W. Va., and so he has had his legislature pass a bill disfranchising the people of that city and putting the entire governmental affairs into the hands of a commission of three appointed by himself.

"New York Reformers Denounce Mr. Bryan," reads a headline in the Enquirer. That is the most encouraging thing we have ever read about Bryan. When that half-baked bunch of long-haired freaks get after a man his fortune may be considered to have been made.

One of the ways in which the great leaders of the Republican party locally can land a job at Columbus is to take a course in "learning how" from the experts in Adams and Pike counties. Still, by the time they get wise there may be only the small crumbs left.

The Kaiser is said to have quoted feelingly Calvin's saying that one man with God is a majority. Whom could he have meant—Billy Sunday?—New York World.

A Close Shave

One day the five-year-old daughter of the house was looking through a picture book, when she suddenly glanced up to her mother: "Mamma," said she, with a very serious expression, "don't men ever go to heaven?" "Why, of course, my dear," answered the mother in surprise. "What makes you ask?" "Because," responded the little girl, turning to the book again, "I have never seen any pictures of angels with whiskers." "That's easily accounted for, darling," was the rejoinder of mother. "While men do go to heaven, they only get there by a very close shave."

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

GOVERNMENT LOOKS INTO LOCAL WIRELESS STATION

Is the United States planning to establish a wireless station in Portsmouth, in order that in a few seconds this city, in case of flood or disaster of any kind, could get in touch with almost any point in the world?

Cranston Locke, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Locke, of 1311 Gallia street, who has experimented in wireless telegraphy to such an extent that he can receive messages of a wireless nature from all parts of the United States, Key West, Cuba and Arlington, is in receipt of a letter from the superintendent at the government's Radio Station in Washington, making insistent inquiries about Cranston's ability to receive or send wireless messages, in case that dire disaster should suddenly visit Portsmouth.

Cranston, who for some time has had a radio station at his home, has been receiving messages over the wireless for some time. He has been able to receive them from the Springfield Watch Company, of Springfield, Ill., and according to wireless experts, this current is one of the strongest in the United States.

Dr. Locke stated to The Times, Tuesday, that an order had been placed for additional equipment for his son's radio station, and upon its installation he will be able to send wireless messages to any of the stations maintained in America.

"Wherever there is a wireless station I believe the government wants to know if messages can be received and sent so that they could make use of them when disaster strikes the city, such as the flood we had in 1913," said Dr. Locke, Tuesday. His son has made a careful study of wireless telegraphy and is said to be exceptionally well posted for a young man of his age.

Dr. Locke and son will get in touch with the officials in charge of the radio station in Washington and ascertain the full import of the inquiry they have made as to whether Cranston can receive and send wireless messages, and if his station is modernly equipped for rapid and accurate work.

River Continues To Retreat; Completely Evacuates City

The Ohio river began receding at quite a rapid rate Monday night falling exactly 2.2 ft., the marks showing a stage of 49.8 ft. Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock.

The river had gotten within its banks again excepting below the city where it will probably remain over the roads for another day or two. It was practically out of Slabtown, again leaving considerable driftwood and a sea of mud in its wake. Much driftwood was also strewn over York Place.

The city public service department put a force of men to work Tuesday morning clearing the flood wall driveways of all driftwood. It is to be hoped that steps will also be taken to wash the grade of all mud once the water has gotten to a normal stage.

The fire engine which has been doing duty at the Union street valve for some days past, quit pumping Monday evening, all danger of a renewed overflow having vanished. The engine answered its purpose very well and many property owners in that vicinity commended the officials for having stationed the engine there. George A. Goodman kept the firemen supplied with hot coffee and lunch every day.

The city officials will at once begin repairs or reconstruct the defective valve which was responsible for the overflow east of Union street.

TO IMPROVE "STYLE SHOP"

That Manager A. L. White, of the "Style Shop" heartily agrees with the slogan, "Do it now—Help the Unemployed!" is shown by the fact that he has awarded a contract for the remodeling of the present quarters of his up-to-date store. These improvements will be made within the next few days. At first Manager White had intended to await the arrival of spring, but stated that, owing to the fact that the contemplated improvements would give work to quite a number of unemployed men, when they most needed it, the remodeling of the store will begin next week. The interior of the building will be repapered, repainted and new shelving added.

Didn't Want To Work

"Dummy" Robinson, a North End mute, who was fined in police court for drunkenness and committed to the city work gang Monday morning, ran away Monday afternoon.

Owls Plan For Dance

Further arrangements for the big Fastnacht dance on Tuesday evening, February 16th, at Wilhelmette hall, were made by the members of the Order of Owls at their regular meeting Monday evening. From present indications, over three hundred will attend. The program was given to the printer Tuesday morning, and when completed will prove an attractive souvenir for each one who attends. Tickets are selling rapidly, according to the members. An enjoyable smoker followed the meeting.

Vogel Mill Robbed; Makes Third Time

It has just leaked out that Vogel Bros.' meal and feed mill at No. 1301 Chillicothe street was robbed again a few nights ago for the third time in the past three months.

A small cash drawer was rifled of two dollars in pennies and fifty cents worth of postage stamps. Entrance is thought to have been gained by unhooking a rear door, the robbers locking the door again and leaving the place through the office. They are thought to have been persons very familiar with the premises.

Police were not notified by the firm. Once before a gang of yeggmen blew the safe, wrecking it, though their efforts were for naught for the safe at the time was not only empty, but was also unlocked.

PROTECTION FOR FUNERALS

The mayor has suggested that the chief of police station a patrolman at street car or railroad crossings when funerals are passing, to guard the interests of those en route to the cemetery. The mayor believes such service would be appreciated by the general public and asks the co-operation of undertakers in keeping the department advised of the funeral hours.

BIBLE INSPIRED BOOK UPHELD BY EVANGELIST

"The Indispensable Book" was the theme of Evangelist Irwin's address at the Christian church in Sciotoville, last night.

The evangelist proved to be an ardent defender of the Bible as an inspired book. The common stock objection to the Bible were paraded before the congregation in rapid succession and virtually dissected one by one by the speaker.

Much corroborative evidence was introduced to prove the historical and scientific statements of the Bible notwithstanding the fact that the Bible contains much data of scientific and historical value, yet the Bible is not so highly esteemed as a book of science, history or literature as it is for the information it gives concerning the future and the destiny of man. It solves a thousand perplexing problems that are not explained by any historian, chemist, geologist, astronomer or other human agency. Fifteen responded to the invitation.

Tonight the subject will be "The New Testament Church." The large chart that hangs just back of the pulpit will be explained. It will be a great opportunity to hear the Scriptures expounded. If you are interested you are invited to be present.

Carey, division superintendent of the N. & W., notes with pleasure the success of the electric locomotives now being tested out on one of its eastern divisions and expresses the hope that such service soon may be installed in this city for moving trains within the corporate limits. This, he believes, would prove an effective remedy for controlling traffic and to a certain extent eliminating complaints with reference to smoke.

BLIZZARD WEATHER HANDICAPS TROOPS ON BOTH FRONTIERS

Russian brigade near Lodz (top) and English soldiers in a north France blizzard.

Heavy snow falls have taken place along the whole battle front in France, and blizzards have impeded the movements of troops in Austria, Poland and East Prussia. Upper photo shows a Russian brigade making its way to Lodz. Instead of four, eight horses were hitched to the Russian guns. The lower photo, taken in northern France only a quarter of a mile from the firing line, shows two English soldiers in their winter outfit unhitching a team from an ammunition wagon.

There Would Be Many Orphans In Portsmouth If God Killed Devil

—SAYS REV. C. E. GRIFFIN.

Rev. C. E. Griffin, of Ironton, preached last night his sermon on "Why Doesn't God Kill the Devil?" The speaker declared that the devil and sin are mysteries and as there are mysteries all around us, which we cannot understand, we need not be unduly disturbed about the mystery of the devil and sin. He said that God was neither the author of sin nor the creator of the devil. If God created the devil and was the author of sin He could not be God. There are some things that God cannot do and still be God. For instance God can't sin. It is not a question "Will God Sin?" but that God can not sin.

"If the devil is the author of all evil and the tempter of men to sin, why doesn't God kill him so that man would have no tempter, and consequently never sin? If God should do such a thing He would shut the human race in the prison of compulsory law. It is the opportunity and the refusal to sin that makes a man a free moral nature and thus develops his Christian character, when he refuses to yield to sin.

"If God would kill the devil, there would be many orphans in Portsmouth."

Rev. Griffin closed his sermon with an appeal to the unsaved. There was one who yielded to this appeal. There were many in the service who felt the Divine presence.

Services this evening at 7:15.

'NOTHER MAN FOR ADAM

The following is the latest effusion of one of the mayor's unknown poetic friends:

"Here's to our Adam, oh long may he rule,
With a wit that is keen and a head that is cool;
On all public questions he's a cure for all ills,
From filtration plants to peddlars of pills.

He's a man of ideas, you can see at a glance,
By the way he has handled our new water plants,
And they say he can spot out a crack in concrete
From the foot of the hill in New Boston's main street.

Without any bosses, he's boss of it all,
And he does it so well that the old city hall
Sits up and takes notice, and even "Law me,"
He is going to veto our council, I see.

Well, Mayor, you have lost a few friends, that is true,
But while you were losing you gained a lot, too;
I'll have to admit, you have gotten my goat,
And when primaries come, you'll at least get one vote."

The Movies

Marquerite Clark at Lyric Today

Pretty, fascinating Marguerite Clark, in the charming soul-stirring romance, "The Crucible," is the good show at the Lyric today. This is by all odds the greatest picture attraction of the season. Nothing you have ever seen will compare with this magnificent picture. It is considered everywhere as the most successful of all the "Famous Player Productions," and when you consider what excellent pictures this company has made, you may form some idea how well pleased you will be with "The Crucible." It is in five parts and will take about an hour and a half to show. The first show starts at 1:30, promptly. Then about 3 o'clock, and again at 4:30. The afternoon admission will be ten cents to all and the evening will be 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for the children. The evening shows will start at 6:30, 8:00 and 9:30. You better come early.

Tomorrow another "Famous Player Production" will be shown—William Courtleigh in "The Better Man," in four parts. "The Better Man" is something out of the ordinary, something unusually good. It tells a dramatic, romantic story of the struggles of two young clergymen for two great prizes, the heart of a good woman and the Bishopric. The admission tomorrow will be ten cents for adults and five for children.

Thursday we introduce a new picture star who has been making a great many friends everywhere—the beautiful Irene Howley, who plays the title role in "The Lady of Dreams," a feature production from the Biograph studio. It's a splendid picture, a charming love story, mingled with a fairy tale.

"Two Women," on Friday, is a "Broadway Star Feature," featuring Anita Stewart, Julia Swayne Gordon, Harry T. Morey and Harry Northup. With all these clever people in it you know it can't help but be something extra good. These "Broadway Star Features" are all splendid pictures made by the Vitagraph Co.—the best they make—and you will see them all in Portsmouth, as we have arranged for all of them to come either to the Lyric or Columbia Theatres. Davison's Orchestra will be an added attraction at the Lyric tonight.

Securing Jury In Manslaughter Case

The trial of the State of Ohio against Ferrie Dillon, Ezra Knight and Roy Blake, opened in common pleas court at Ironton Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, and the greater part of the day was consumed in securing a jury. Judge John C. Milner of this city, is assisting the prosecution.

The defendants are charged with manslaughter for the killing of Loson Watson at the Mt. Vernon school house in Lawrence county on Thanksgiving eve, 1914. Owing to the prominence of the young man who met death at that time and of the young men who are accused of contributing thereto the case will be one of exceptional interest and will be hard fought.

Eighty-nine witnesses have been summoned to testify and more will likely be called. Some of the ablest lawyers in Southern Ohio are engaged in the case. Besides Judge Milner of this city, former Prosecuting Attorney Dickey of Gallipolis, will assist Prosecutor L. K. Cooper and his assistant, M. W. Russell. The attorneys for the defendants are Johnson and Jones, Andrews and Irish, and A. J. Layne.

The greater part of Tuesday's session was consumed in the securing of a jury to try the case.

JIM COFFEY, HEAVY STAR, WAS ONCE A MOTORMAN WITH A RICH IRISH BROGUE

COFFEY ARRIVED HERE FOUR YEARS AGO, FRESH FROM COUNTY CLARE
HIS FIRST JOB IN THE U.S. WAS AS A MOTORMAN
HE WAS TERRIBLY GREEN WHEN HE FIRST ENTERED THE RING
—BUT HE LOOKS BIG IN THE HEAVY CLASS RIGHT NOW

Jim Coffey, the heavyweight pug, arrived in the U. S. from Ireland a little over four years ago and soon had a job as a street car motorman. When Coffey was first told he might make a good fighter he entered the game willingly enough, but with small knowledge of the art. He was as green at the game as one could wish. He soon picked up the points, however, and today he is regarded as one of the best in his class.
